HARRY TITUS PROFILE

Soldier, sailor, genealogist. That's what your president, Harry Titus, has been and of the three, he says, the latter has been the most fulfilling.

He attributes that to the wealth of information of both the Titus and Barnett (his mother) lines available. He does bemoan the dearth of it on so many others though. Possibly that's why his searches have been so exciting, - learning of one's "roots" through a form of detective work. Possibly that's why his recent trip to Florida will be one of the highlights he'll always remember.

While there he walked the graveyards, met with cousins unknown only a few short months ago and gathered information concerning some of those ancestors he'd only read about. In addition, he spent some time in two very important places - Micanopy and Titusville.

The first was his birthplace (as it was his mother's and her father's) and the second was not only the birthplace of his father and of his father's father, but it was founded by his great-grandfather. At Titusville, he was met by a host of dignitaries and presented with the key to the city. "A memorable experience," he says.

Titus says that despite his accomplishments to date, he has a long ways to go, a journey he wishes he could complete so that his four children (two boys, two girls) will have a history of their lines to pass on to their children as well.

He has only one bit of advice to give to all who are searching - "Don't give up! It's out there and just possibly through our society it'll be found."

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
1979 NATIONAL SEMINAR PROGRAM ON
FAMILY AND LOCAL HISTORY RESEARCH

MARCH 14 1979 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
SANTA BARBARA BILTMORE HOTEL

The New England Historic Genealogical Society is a nonprofit institution founded in 1845 for the purpose of collecting, studying and preserving New England family and local history. As the oldest and largest society of its kind, it maintains a research library of nearly 300,000 books, pamphlets and family papers.

Each year more than 15,000 persons from throughout the United States and abroad use these collections to research their family heritage. In searching for ancestors and tracing the routes they followed from one generation to the next, members have found fulfillment in discovering a personal link with the past. Members of the Society enjoy unlimited access to the Library, its printed books, pamphlets and rare book and manuscript collections. A circulating library of duplicate copies is also available to members. SBDGS has listings and rules applicable to the circulating library.

Membership in the Society includes a subscription to the quarterly, NEHG REGISTER, the oldest continuously issued journal of its kind. The REGISTER prints articles and book reviews relating to New England family and local history. In addition, the Society has published many genealogies, local histories and compilations of vital records, any of which still in print a member may purchase at a ten percent discount.

SBCGS is indeed greatly privileged to honor the NEHGS and its representatives on the occasion of the second Western Tour, and the first Western Tour Seminar to be held in Santa Barbara.

The expanded 1979 Schedule includes

March 10, Stanford University, Tresidder Student Union

March 14, Santa Barbara, Biltmore Hotel

March 17, Los Angeles, USC Gerontology Center, Davis Auditorium

March 22, San Diego, University of San Diego, DeSales Hall.

JAMES B. BELL, Director of the Society, lectures at the morning session on Migration and in the afternoon on Church Records. Dr. Bell is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and of Oxford University and has taught American History at Ohio State University and at Princeton.

DAVID W. DUMAS lectures on Census Records and Military Records. Dr. Dumas is a graduate of Brown University and University of Virginia Law School, and is a practicing attorney in Providence, R.I. He has lectured at NEHGS summer seminars and is an authority on the use of legal terms in genealogical research.

The Society will provide a coffee break at each seminar. A 75-minute midday break will allow participants time for lunch according to their own choices and at their own expense.

The program is open to all interested persons. Preregistration is advised, to be made with NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, 101 Newbury St., Boston MA 02116. Fee, $15.00 per person non-refundable. For those who do not preregister, payment may be made at the door on the day of the program.

FAMILY HISTORY SYMPOSIUM REVIEW

Alex Haley was featured as special guest speaker at the symposium on "The Family and the Community", held January 26-27, 1979 at UCSB. The event was co-sponsored by the Department of History, UCSB, and the National Archives, and was an effort to describe the available resources for research in family history, so intensely stimulated by the T.V. dramatization of "Roots".

The Friday program was a seminar workshop especially for the librarian, archivist and historian. The morning session was headed by J. Carlyle Parker of California State, Stanislaus, as a mini-course on Reference Services. The afternoon workshop, chaired by G. Wesley Johnson, Dept. of History, UCSB, was concerned with Public History and the Community Historian.

The Saturday program began with registration at 8 A.M. for those attending the 8:30-9:45 session, which was divided into two events: "Family History on the Ground", chaired by Wilbur Jacobs, of UCSB, and addressed by Arlene Eakle of Salt Lake City, and "The Family and the Community through Oral History", chaired by Thomas Tuller, UCSB, and addressed by Rebecca Conrad, Iowa State Historical Society, Ingrid W. Scobie, UC San Diego, and Stephen Payne, Ph.S. Fellow, UC Santa Cruz.

A co-welcome from the sponsors was given in Campbell Hall 10-11AM with speakers - Robert O. Collins, UCSB, Joseph Williams, GSA, and James B. Rhoads, Archivist of the United States.

The second session was broken into three parts running concurrently "Getting Started in Family History", chaired by Richard E. Oglesby, UCSB, who introduced the speakers, Ben Bloxham, Brigham Young U., Marge C. Fahy, So. Cal. Gen. Soc., and Carlton E. Smith, a former president SBCCS.

"Writing Family History and Biography", chaired by C. Wesley Johnson, who introduced as speakers, David Kyvig, U. of Akron, Yaffa Draznin, author, and Ted Hinckley, Cal State, San Jose.

"Sources for Family and Community History" was chaired by JoAnn Williamson of National Archives and had as speakers, J. Carlyle Parker, Cal State, Stanislaus, Kenneth Rossman, National Archives, and Raymond Wright, Genealogy Society of Utah.

The third session held from 2-3:15 PM was also broken into three selections - "New Perspectives on Family and Community History", introduced by Patricia Cohen, UCSB, and addressed by Alan Feldman, Lower Friends School, Pa., Dean May, U. Utah, and Richard Bushman, U. Delaware.

"Impact of Immigration on Family and Community" was introduced by Bogna Lorence-Kot, UC Berkeley, with speakers - Frederick Luebke, U. Nebr., Donald T. Mata, Cal State Dominguez Hills, Nadine Mata, El Camino College, and Phyllis Martinelli, Phoenix History Project.

"Sources for Family and Community", with Carl W. Harris, UCSB, as chairman and speakers George Simons, Inter Media Foundation, Santa Monica, Marie Northrop, and Anita Check Milner, authors.

In Campbell Hall was the coming together of all groups in attendance to hear Alex Haley, presented by Robert A. Huttenback, Chancellor UCSB. Mr. Haley's address was good-humored and of great interest as he spoke of the trials of the BLACK MAN in search of his family history and touched on some of the tribulations of becoming famous. He spoke well and without notes, as he lounged against the podium, and gave straight-forward answers to the many questions from the audience. Mr. Haley has created a small foundation to help those seeking to promote family reunions as evidence of his interest and support of others trying to discover and preserve their individual family histories.

NOTES ON JARVIS AND WALKER FAMILIES from
Patricia L. White

It is interesting to note the Walkers probably came with Sir Edmond Plowden before going to New Jersey. People don't realize that there were 350 residents in Jamestown, Virginia in 1618 and 24 families on the Eastern Shore at the time when Grace O'Neill (an Irish ancestor of mine) arrived in June, 1618 on the "Diana" more than a year before the "Mayflower". Probably many more first came to Jamestown and settled temporarily on the Eastern Shore before scattering to Maryland, Delaware, and New Jersey. Massachusetts was pretty well isolated at this early period and New York in the hands of the Dutch.

The publishing business has always been concentrated in the Northeast, hence Virginia's early history has been largely ignored. The Civil War destroyed many southern records in the South and economic survival became more important than publishing what remained. These two books on the Eastern Shore are unique: County Records<sup>1</sup> and Virginia's Eastern Shore<sup>2</sup>, I am so glad I could get a copy. There may not be many more left. As far as I know the only copies obtainable are from the Shore Savings & Loan Company in Accomac, Virginia.

JARVAS FAMILY (Also spelled JARVIS and JARVICE)

With few exceptions, all the residents of Northampton County took part in the first tax revolt in the American Colonies - 1651. This was more than 100 years before the Boston Tea Party. Among those who revolted were members of the Jarvis family. It is interesting to note that three centuries later, another Jarvis led the tax revolt in California in 1978.

From County Records supra:

Christopher Jarvis on 7-6-1640 owes Anthony Hodgkins 1588 pounds of Tobacco. Debt still owed in May 1645. (Tobacco fell in price to less than 1 cent a pound. Much poverty throughout Virginia).

Francis Jarvis, p. 209, petitions for status as a freeman as having served his indenture to Matthew Patt for full time plus 14 days. Contested, p. 226. Seems to have been a scrapper even then.

From Virginia's Eastern Shore supra. There are a number of references to this family, but a quick scan of the references do not show wives' names, but occasionally a son. Christopher Jarvis bought land in Northampton in 1632 and this eventually became known as "Eyre Hall", one of the famous estates on the Shore that is open during Garden Week. Others mentioned as purchasing land are: George Jarvis, Henry, Amble, Jesse, John, Robert, Thomas and many references to William Jervas. (Sometimes different spelling.)

There is little written about the gradual and determined westward movement within the boundaries of Virginia before the mountains are reached. This covered a long span of time - from the settlement of Jamestown in 1607 to 1750 and the opening of Kentucky. However, by 1670, there were settlers, such as Samuel Stalnaker on the Holston. He and Dr. Thomas Walker, physician, surveyor, speculator in western lands, and for some years the legal guardian of Thomas Jefferson, explored Kentucky before Daniel Boone looking for an 800,000 acre grant given him by the King of England. Tidewater colonists pushed west, first to Gloucester, then New Kent, King and Queen, King William, Essex, Hanover, Caroline, Goochland, Louisa, Orange, Albemarle and Augusta. The westernmost counties were again divided into smaller counties.

Walkers appear in Northampton County records prior to 1642 and others came with Sir Edmond Plowden who then went to New Jersey. This would account for Walkers appearing in Maryland and New Jersey. They were evidently related to the Capt. Thomas Walker who came in 1650, the ancestor of Dr. Thomas Walker, since Tidewater Walkers settled on land of the Loyal Land Company in Southwest Virginia and Tennessee.

What interests me most in this family is that succeeding generations were the first to explore the opening of the West from the Tidewater to the California coast - not only explored, but brought settlers.

Also from Virginia's Eastern Shore supra:

P. 29. "March 30 1641. Wee whose names are underwritten this daye made choyce of by the Inhabitants of Northampton Countie in Virginia to give Informacons and Instruccions to the gent Ellected Burgesses for this present Grand Assemblee. . . And for the Redresse of those agreevances wch (at present) wee are capable & sensible of in our Countie of Northampton.

. . . But after the 1647, since that tyme wee Conceive & have found that the taxes were very weightie. But in a more especiall manner wee are very sensible of the Taxacon of fforty sixe pounds of tobacco p. poll (this present yeare). And desire that the same bee taken off the charge of the Countie of Northampton furthermore wee alledge that after 1647 wee did understand & suppose our Countie of Northampton to be disioynted & sequestered from the rest of Virginia. Therefore that Llawe wch requireth & inioyneth Taxacons from us to bee Arbitrarye & illegall forasmuch as wee had neither summons for Ellecon of Burgesses nor voyce in their Assemblee (during the time aforesd) but only the Singulur Burgess in September, Ano. 1651. We conceive that wee may Lawfullie ptest agt the pceedings in the Act of Assemblee for public Taxacons wch have relacon to Northampton Countie since the year 1647. . . ."

"Witness our hands subscribed the day & year aforesd.

Stephen Chorlton
Llevyne Denwood
Jno Nuthall

Wm. Whittington
John Ellis
Steph Horsey"

The Assembly did not act on it until 1653 when it referred to the protest as scandalous and seditious - and "hath caused much disturbance in the peace of the government of the county. . ." The signers were fined Three hundred pounds of tobacco each, and a Capt. Thomas Johnson fined Five hundred pounds of tobacco. (In 1646 he had obtained a patent for 600 acres in Northampton County.)

MIGRATION PATTERNS FROM 1852 STATE CENSUS

Santa Barbara County California

Reprinted from ANCESTORS WEST, Vol. 1, No. 2, Spring 1975

p. 45: A portion of the 1850 Federal Population Census for the County of Santa Barbara was destroyed in a disaster, it is said, as a result of a flood caused by a tidal wave. As with many states, California gathered a state census for 1852. A copy of this census was made by A. B. Gledhill in February, 1958 from the "California Census of 1852", Volume IX at the California State Library, California Division, Sacramento, California and placed in the Gledhill Library of the Santa Barbara Historical Society Museum. Statistics in the report of the Secretary of State were presented to the Legislature of 1853 and are also included with this copy of the 1852 Census of Santa Barbara County. Information covered in the census is name, age, sex, occupation, birthplace, and resident (of). The entry names are not in alphabetical order and have been copied as they appear from the copy of pages 13 through 52 in the book. Some of the abbreviations and translations are MW (male white) FW (female white) MI (male Indian) FI (female Indian) U Cal [UC] Upper California - as opposed to Baja California ) Vaquero (cattleman) rancharo (rancher).

p. 46: Statistics in the report of the Secretary of State as presented to the Legislature of 1853:

A contemporary map of the United States from Bliss' Analysis of Geography, 10th ed., 1855, is reproduced in this issue of ANCESTORS WEST. Note the area then within California.

The diversity of birthplaces and former residences of inhabitants of Santa Barbara County is amazing. Countries not now in existence include New Granada, South America (now Colombia and Panama)- Buenos Ayres, then a separate country - St which your editor cannot place. In Europe Germany and Prussia,

THE STRANGE CASE OF THE DISAPPEARING RELATIVES

by

SHERLOCK (H. E.) GALBRAITH

FOR MANY MONTHS I DO NO SHIRKING
JUST STUDY, WORK, AND MORE RESEARCHING
THE HUNT IS ON; THERE IS NO REST
EVERY CLUE MUST MEET THE TEST
OLD SHERLOCK SEEKS THE PLACE AND YEAR
OF ANCESTORS WHO DISAPPEAR

GIDEON WARREN, IT WAS HIS JOY
TO FIGHT KING GEORGE, AS A GREEN MT. BOY
TO CREATE VERMONT, HE FOUGHT THE DUTCH
AT TICONDEROGA, HE DID MUCH
BUT AT FAMILY HISTORY, HE HIT THE SKIDS
HID AWAY TWO WIVES AND THIRTEEN KIDS

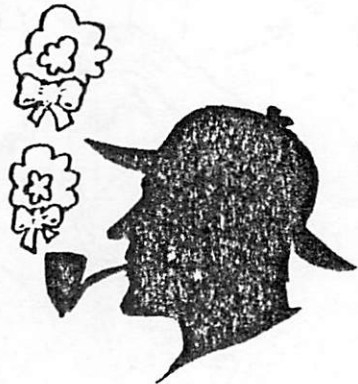

IN SUSSEX, NEW JERSEY, IN '77
HENRY DU PUE WENT TO HUGUENOT HEAVEN
HIS ABSTRACT HAD FOUR SONS ON THE LIST
BUT THE WILL, ITSELF, NAMES SIX GIRLS MISSED
WHO AND WHERE ARE HIS PARENTS? IT IS MY BELIEF THAT HENRY WAS FOUND 'NEATH A BIG CABBAGE LEAF

WHO KNOWS THE HISTORY OF LAURENCE McLOUTH?
A SCOT BORN IN IRELAND, SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH
TRAINED FOR THE PRIESTHOOD, BUT SLIPPED OFF TO SEA
SUPPOSEDLY CAME HERE IN 1753
THE IRISH AND SCOTCH HAVE NO NAME AS 'McLOUTH' MIGHT IT SOUND LIKE 'McLEOD', WITH A BURR IN ONE'S MOUTH?

TACY HUBBARD, WITHOUT KIN OR CLASS
MARRIED CHARLES BESWICK, OF CHESTERFIELD, MASS.
IN THE 1750'S TACY APPEARS
AND PRODUCED TWELVE CHILDREN IN THE NEXT TWENTY YEARS
BUT CHARLEY AND TACY, THE RECORDS SHOULD SHOW
MUST HAVE ARRIVED ON THE FIRST U F O.

THE SEARCH GOES ON, NO REST FOR THE WEARY
DATA IS PROVED AND NOT VESTED IN THEORY
OLD RECORDS ARE STUDIED BY THE SCORE
AND LETTERS SENT OUT EVER MORE
DEDUCTIONS ARE MADE BY THE BAKER'S DOZEN
'TIL ONE DAY COMES A LETTER BEGINNING 'DEAR COUSIN'

OH! WHAT PLEASURE! WHAT BLISS! THROUGHOUT ALL ONE'S BONES
BUT NOW ONE MUST FACE A NEW SET OF UNKNOWNNS
MUST RE-GATHER THE PENCILS, THE CHARTS AND THE MAPS
THE HUNT'S ON AGAIN, MORE EXCITING, PERHAPS SHERLOCK SIGHS, "MY DEAR WATSON, THIS TRUTH I'LL EVINCE
WE MUST KISS MANY FROGS, BEFORE WE FIND A PRINCE!"

BOOK REVIEW

GENEALOGY VIA NEWSLETTER, By W. Burr Coryell (P.O. Box 662, Santa Barbara, CA 93102), Kinner & Klein, Seattle, WA 98124, 24 pages, illustrated. $2.00

In his foreword, Mr. Coryell states: "A Family Newsletter with Genealogical Objectives is an excellent vehicle for initiating communications with family members...." and proves that statement in the body of his publication with the whys, the hows and how-nots of publishing such a letter.

His coverage of the things needed to know is concise, factual and easy to understand. Choosing a name, frequency of publication, securing mailing lists, composition, masthead plus the costs are just a few of the subjects covered in this book that is a must for those wishing to start their own newsletter or for those who have previously tried and failed.

REMARKS It is said there has never been a case of Asiatic Cholera or Small Pox in Santa Barbara County. This immunity from those diseases is accounted for, by some, from the fact that the atmosphere here is highly charged with exhalations from the great number of asphaltum deposits that abound on this section of the Coast. Will the scientific savans make a note of this unscientifically stated fact.

The foregoing table, including the above "remarks" was copied by Helen Murray Miller at the Gledhill Library, Santa Barbara Historical Society.

BOOK REVIEW

Alma Imhoff Lauritsen

DIRECTORY OF ARCHIVES AND MANUSCRIPT REPOSITORIES IN THE UNITED STATES 1978. National Historical Publications and Records Commission. National Archives and Record Services. General Services Administration, Washington, D.C.

This Directory is an excellent and extensive research guide to historical and genealogical collections of reference material throughout the United States and its possessions. The material is arranged by state, then by city and the institutions named within the city. An index of 122 pages further details the text, listing subject matter, locations and names of libraries. Impressive for its volume alone, it is a large book, 8½ x 10½ with 905 pages.

Each unit is detailed to include name of repository, mailing address, users, fees, and access. This will be a source of further enrichment of collections also, since there is a description of materials solicited for each collection. Inclusive dates, number of volumes included in the holding, and a general description of materials is given.

Impressive in its range of classified sources, it also is capable of vast future expansion. "The data base is capable of expansion to include 1) all archives and manuscript repositories in the United States; 2) all collections or record groups held by those repositories; 3) information down to the series, folder or item level for each of these collections or record groups; and 4) information about the condition of all the records entered in the data base. At present, the Commission is concentrating on 1 and 2 and the series level of number 3 only and on the national level will probably not produce information in greater detail than is represented in those steps".

Experiments with cooperative programs in which State, local or regional organizations assemble information in the same format to whatever level of detail they wish to support, indicate that the usefulness of this collection will continue to expand.

As a research tool for individuals, it is a detailed and clearly understood guide for reaching specific information, and it appears to be invaluable in a genealogy library.
