AMY WOODS MARWEDE PROFILE

Vice-president Amy and her husband John Marwede, a realtor, have lived in beautiful Santa Barbara for the past thirty years.

A transplant from Massachusetts, much of her earlier life was spent in the old Ely Gould house on Spot Pond in Malden. A painting by her sister Dorothy Woods emphasizes its antiquity and peaceful surroundings. One of the privileges her father, Edward Melven Woods, enjoyed as Captain of the Metropolitan District Police Department was occupancy by his family of this house, owned by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, built around 1700 and over 200 years old in the 1920 s with its wide floor boards, a fireplace in all the bedrooms and in nearly all the rooms on the first floor.

Through carelessness or callousness on the part of someone, a few years ago it was torn down to accommodate and enlarge a small nearby zoo. Had Amy been in Boston, its demolition would have been fought tooth and nail.

The Amy Woods Marwede ancestors chart appeared in the June ANCESTORS WEST and shows her descent from Stephen Hopkins of the "Mayflower", through his son Giles, down to Mary Hopkins who married Samuel Smith. Amy and her niece, Dorothy Whitford, of Rutland, Vermont, are diligently working on family genealogy and history. Both are members of the Mayflower Society, as are the sisters, Edna Wentzel, of Rutland, Mabel Marie West, of Thomsen, Georgia, and Dorothy Woods, of Napa, California.

Edward Melven Woods, was born in 1874 in Forest Glen, Yarmouth County, Nova Scotia, the son of Angeline Hamilton and Robert Wentworth Woods. The family moved when he was four to Cambridge, Mass., then to Everett, where he graduated from high school wearing his father's suit. He had grown a foot that year and it was not easy to find clothes for a young fellow who was now well over six feet tall. He was proud of having worn his father's suit. The family finally settled in Malden, Mass., where his father built the Church of the Nazarene, still standing today. His two brothers, Alton and Gordon Woods, worked for the telephone company and they supervised the installation of the entire telephone systems of Cuba and Porto Rico. Recently when visiting in Yuma, Arizona, Amy met a Navy Captain who knew them well in Havana when he was stationed there in the twenties. It is indeed a small world! Two of his sisters married into old Cape Cod families, Rich and Snow. Amy and her sisters have fond memories of visiting in Eastham, where the Rich family home stood. It is now the site of a historical museum in National Seashore Park.

From Amy's own words - "Among my fondest recollections are the Metropolitan Police Balls that were held each year in Boston Symphony Hall. It was one of the big social events of the year and everyone came in their finest. One year when I was in my teens I had the honor of leading the grand march with Gov. Alvin T. Fuller, What a thrill!

"When I wrote to the M.D.C. which is still located at 20 Somerset Street for information on my father, I received a letter from Capt. John O'Brien. This is what he said.

"Your inquiry has prompted some nostalgia for me, as in looking at the files I have suddenly realized that I am the last of the M.D.C. officers still working who was appointed during the tenure of Supt. Woods. There are but four left who were here prior to his retirement in 1944. For Supt. Carpenter and all of us "Old Parkies" who wore the grey uniforms may I wish you many pleasant hours recalling the happy times you spent in the Fells area."

PIETRA Cavalier Leopoldo Chiappa PIETRA, b. Feb., 1842 ARENAS came from the ancestral home in the province of AVILA Genova, Italy in 1860 to Santa Barbara, where his brother, Frederico, lived. That year they bought the Juan Sanchez Ranch for sheep raising. They opened a mercantile business in Santa Barbara and established a Spanish family - a descendant of Cornelio AVILA. After selling 7,000 acres to the California Fruit + Farming Co.

 returned to Minneapolis and in 1872 came to San Francisco.
 He was laughed at for coming south "such was the prejudice against Southern California." He arrived in Santa Barbara New Years Day, 1873, to a town crowded with new arrivals from the East. All hotels and boarding houses were filled.
 He finally rented an unfinished garret on De la Vina. The next 28 years he was employed in the making of fancy redwood mantles, cabinet work, bookcases and sideboards.

SAUNDERS Z. W. SAUNDERS served the northern Santa Barbara RALL County area as a tireless member of the medical profession. Born in Van Buren Co., Iowa in 1843, moved to Missouri, where his father was a cabinet maker, bought a large tract of land and built a saw and grist mill. In 1876 the family visited Lompoc and liked it so well they settled there. Mr. Saunders had served in the Civil War, taking part in Wilson raid through Tenn. Ala. Miss. After the war he began the study of medicine, grad. Iowa 1874. He

 HODSON Joseph LAWTON and Martha HODSON. During an 1885
 TRUMAN pleasure trip to the U.S., Mr. Lawton admired Santa Barbara and for his health settled here. He

The founder of the family in America was Vincent MEIGS (MEGGS) from co. Dorset, Eng. who settled in East Guilford, Conn. about 1637. His son Jehn was b. Weymouth and was deacon of the first church in Guilford 1696-1713. His son Janna m. Hannah WILLARD, granddaughter of Simon WILLARD, a hero of King Philip's War. After 40 years in business, he was forced to retire for his health and came to California in 1847. Here he tried to establish a business in the manufacture of olive oil but could not compete with foreign oil adulterated with corn oil.

WILSON Albert C. J. WILSON came to Santa Barbara in 1867
 CALDER from the gold mines in No. Calif. He was born Joseph Wilson but, because there were so many of that name, he applied to the legislature and by its act his name was changed to Albert Calhoun Joseph WILSON. His grandfather, John, was an early pioneer from New Jersey to the Ohio River valley. His father, Louis WILSON, was born in W. Va. and served in the War of 1812. When Albert was 28 he came to California by steamship down the Ohio to New Orleans, by boat through Lake Nicaragua, and by oxcart to the Pacific Ocean. The Wilson family was among the first of Eastern lineage to settle in Santa Barbara. He bought three blocks, totaling 15 acres and erected a residence. He married Margaret CALDER who came with her parents from Ohio via Panama in 1856. Their 3 ch. were Katherine Wilson Bell, Louis and George.

There is an active Polish American Arts Association in Santa Barbara. Meetings are held monthly on the third Friday at 7.30 p.m. in the Glendale Federal Savings office, 3757 State St., Santa Barbara. The purpose is cultural, with speakers on history, language, customs and arts. The President is Irene Pleszczynska (Mrs. Andrew Pleszczynski) 2025 Monterey, Santa Barbara, CA 93101.

At least 24 foreign nations are listed in the 1852 census of Santa Barbara County (population 2,131) as the birthplaces of its inhabitants. ANCESTORS WEST hopes to make contact with present day descendants.

SANTA BARBARA

was one of California's 27 original counties. While the county was actually created in 1850, the history of the area dates back to 1542. At that time Juan Cabrillo discovered the Santa Barbara channel and later, according to legend, crossed to San Miguel Island, where he died and was buried. A second Spanish explorer, Sebastian Vizcaino, entered the channel on the Feast Day of Saint Barbara in 1602, and named the area accordingly. Father Junipero Serra founded the Santa Barbara mission in 1786. Santa Barbara Royal Presidio, established April 21, 1782, was the last of four royal presidios in Alta California - San Diego, Monterey, San Francisco and Santa Barbara.
