FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome all you new members - we're delighted to have you join us! You'll find the SBGS a dynamic, energetic group. It's definitely the place for genealogical action in Santa Barbara.

The year is off to a great start. Our membership continues to grow, the process of incorporation is moving smoothly, and our participation in the RIM (Records Inventory Microfilming) Project is getting under way.

For those of you who haven't heard about this exciting project, it involves discovering and inventorying records in Santa Barbara County that are of genealogical interest. When this has been done, a microfilm crew from the Genealogical Society of Utah will arrive to film selected records. Societies throughout the state are cooperating in this truly grand plan. Think how much more comprehensive the coverage will be with our local Society doing the preliminary inventory! We were fortunate to have Carlton Smith, former President of our Society and currently President of the California State Genealogical Alliance, present a workshop on the RIM Project in February. He shared with us the procedures and planning that are being utilized by other societies in this endeavor. It will be rewarding to make this contribution to genealogical research. We'll be needing workers to organize, publicize, locate, collate and computerize. There's a job or you, so please call (965-7423) and let me know how you'd like to help!

Remaining to be resolved is the dilemma of a monthly meeting place and affordable housing for our fine genealogy collection. In December we were notified that our rent at the Goleta Community Center was being quadrupled from $35 to $135 per month. An appeal was made to the Center's Board in January and they voted to allow us a graduated increase of: $65 per mo. Jan.-Mar.; $100 per mo. Apr-June; and $135 per mo. beginning July. In addition, we must carry supplementary liability insurance. With this adjustment providing a bit of temporary financial relief (and the insurance proviso negating it), the Board of our Society voted to continue both our meetings and library at the Center through March. Beginning in April, we will move our monthly meeting to another location, possibly on a rotating basis, and if a new location has not been found for our library, that will be continued at the Center until June.

We need some imaginative thinking by all of you about new library space. The time is right to move. We've been crowded for shelf space the last two years, with very limited possibility for expansion. We have a noteworthy collection that continues to grow. And, if we had space that could be used on a more permanent basis, there are numerous ways that we could increase our services to members -- i.e. additional library operings, meetings of special interest groups, mini-workshops, etc. So put on your thinking caps! Do you know of available space in a church, public or private building, or maybe even a converted garage or spare room at someone's home? We can fix up and add shelves if necessary. Please give this careful and creative thought. Your Board has been working very hard, but has not come up with a solution yet. There's a home out there for us! WHERE IS IT???

Spread the word about our Society and bring a friend along to the next meeting. We've got a great thing going -- let's share it!

Jan Cloud

INCORPORATION

At our February meeting members confirmed a previous consensus that it is prudent and timely for our Society to incorporate. The rationale for incorporation was cogently stated in the February 1986 issue of "The Searcher" by Jean Nepsund, President of the Southern California Genealogical Society.

"One of the most important reasons for incorporating an organization is to limit liability. Incorporation creates a legal entity separate from the individuals that compose it. The corporation is a "legal person" that can negotiate contracts, pay taxes, and incur debts. The structure protects the directors, officers, and members from personal liability for claims brought against the corporation. Lawsuits can reach the assets of the corporation, but not the bank accounts, houses or other property of the persons who manage, work for or are members of the corporation."

The Ventura Society incorporated last year and has kindly shared their knowledge of the procedure with us. A preliminary draft of By-laws and Articles of Incorporation conforming to the California Nonprofit Corporation Code has been completed by committee and forwarded to our Board of Directors for study. When these are in final form, they will be made available to the membership for consideration prior to a formal vote of acceptance. In addition, a new application must be submitted establishing our non-profit status (despite of the fact that we are currently certified as such).

As you can see, there is much time and effort involved in the process. John Rydell, Helen's husband, has graciously agreed to serve as our legal advisor throughout. We are grateful to have his professional guidance.

We'll keep you posted.

ENGLISH ANCESTORS

Their Migration and Mobility

Sponsor: SBCGS

She has long been a member of three county family history societies in England, as well as the Society of Genealogists in London. She organized a group of historians in Somerset-Dorset who meet regularly to work on transcribing parish registers and monumental inscriptions. In 1977 she was employed in Poole, Dorsetshire, as Archivist to sort, transcribe and index town documents dating back to 1560; has studied paleography (interpreting ancient documents), Old English, and English Legal Latin; and has also researched major genealogical archives in the western United States. Your editor in researching the Bradbury family in England encountered all of these subjects and is aware of the abilities involved in such searchings.

Miss Hills has advised that the March 8 seminar will cover all the main resources for English research from 1600 to 1900, including Civil Registration; Censuses, Wills, Parish Registers, Land and Estate Records, and Civil and Criminal Court Records for England and Wales. IRELAND is not included nor is SCOTLAND other than incidentally. Suggestions will be given regarding the principal record repositories and societies which can be of use in tracing English ancestry from abroad, i. e., from the United States. The seminar will cover patterns of mobility throughout Britain from the 15th century.

Pre February 20 Registration dates have been given in the NEWS-LETTER.

STUDY OF AMERICAN RELIGIONS

Dr. Gordon Melton, Speaker

Reported by Anne Braddock and Patty Brock in the NEWSLETTER
Vol 1, No. 2, February 1986

January's guest speaker was Dr. Gordon Melton, an ordained Methodist minister. In 1969 he founded the Institute for the Study of American Religions for the purpose of preserving the records, especially of groups too small to save their own. 95% of the collection has been published since 1945. Cataloguing may be completed by the end of the year and will be housed in Special Collections on the third floor of the UCSB Library.

Dr. Melton gave some background history of the religious development in America. Although religious reasons were among the primary motivations for coming to the American colonies, by 1790, only 15% of the people chose to be identified with a church. In the 1880's, revivalist times began and the numbers of religions and members grew. Baptists and Methodists predominate all other American churches since one could become a Baptist or a Methodist lay minister by a simple declaration of being one.

Some references in this field are : Edwin Gaustad's Historical Atlas of Religion in America (at UCSB and SBCC libraries); Abington Press: Yearbook of American Churches which lists 200 of the most prominent religious bodies, the names and locations of their seminaries; and the Encyclopedia of World Methodism which is useful for tracing parishes and church conferences by dates. These conference records will show any monetary contributions made by members of a parish in the Annual Conference Journal. A woman's contribution might be located in the Women's Home Mission Society or Women's Foreign Mission Society Records in the annual reports. The Conference records are found in seminaries or conference archives which hold records of local churches when they no longer contain names of living people. The proper conference records can be located by knowing names, places and dates of members being researched. A local parish in the same area can identify the conference that parish belonged to.

McENERNEY PAPERS - SAN FRANCISCO RECORDS. On 18 April, 1906, the fire that ravaged San Francisco also destroyed 1,549 books of records kept in the County Recorder's office, more than 1,400 volumes of mortgages, over 225 volumes of mortgage releases, more than 65 volumes of homestead declarations, 95 volumes of notices of liens and many volumes of marriage, maps, pending action notices, and other miscellaneous records. To rectify the situation, the California Legislature approved on 16 June, 1906 "An Act to provide for the Establishment and Quieting of Title to Real Property in case of the Loss or Destruction of Public Records." The new records and legal documents thus created often dealt with and described the same information contained in the originals and were an obvious benefit to property owners. The collection consists of approximately 50,000 cases, known as judgment rolls, dealing with early California names, dates and places in the City and County of San Francisco. Names and dates are myriad. The records are known as the McEnerney Papers, and are indexed. There are 16 volumes in the San Francisco City Clerk's office labeled "Index of Actions." Early in 1984 a crew from The Genealogical Society of Utah (Mormon Library) commenced microfilming and will circulate through interlibrary loan, Mormon Library System.

OFFICER PROFILES

JANICE GIBSON CLOUD was recently elected to a second term as the Society President. She is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, where she majored in geography and history and minored in voice. After teaching Jr. High School for a couple of years, she decided to devote herself to music. She came to Santa Barbara to study opera. She has performed locally on a number of occasions. She has also given concerts in Europe and Canada and was the first American to give concerts in Beijing and Nanjing. After this she decided to retire to genealogy (and we are glad she did).

Her husband, Preston, is retired from the geology faculty of UCSB. They met in Paradise, which is out of Santa Barbara over San Marcos Pass. Ask Jan for directions. It does exist and we do live close to Paradise.

Jan's work includes:

CLOUD - Macon County, Alabama - 1850
 CHENOWETH - Perry County, Ohio - 1820
 RANDLE - Madison County, Illinois - 1812
 ROTH - Philadelphia, Pennsylvania - 1870

BARBARA BROWN MARTIN is our newly elected Vice-President. She was born in Elizabethtown, N. Y. She lived most of her life in Springfield, Ohio, except for three years of living and travel in Europe. Barbara came to Santa Barbara in 1968 with her husband, Dick.

She has attended Ohio State University; tried to be an airline stewardess (a broken leg from skiing got in the way); worked for a data base company; and, worked as a travel agent. Her interests include travel, needlework/sewing, reading and, when the mood hits, putting on a gourmet feast! She became interested in her own genealogy through the LDS Extraction Program.

Current research includes:

MOELLER/MOLLER - Poughkeepsie, N. Y. - 1850's
 GARRISON - Dutchess Co., N. Y. - b. 1837
 MONFORT - Dutchess Co., N. Y. - b. 1806
 DE FREEST - Rensselaer Co., N. Y. - late 1700's

DORCUS ROBSON was re-elected to serve as treasurer. She grew up in Winnetka, Illinois. She attended Western College in Oxford, Ohio, and degree in hand she moved on to National College of Education in Evanston for a teaching degree. She taught kindergarten in Santa Barbara for 26 years after she moved to be with family and friends who were moving here. Her interests include genealogy, P.E.O. and golf.

Her research is focused on:

ROBSON - Benton, Wisconsin - 1848
 WRIGHT - Caledonia Co., Vermont - 1848
 MILES - Caledonia Co., Vermont - early 1800's
 HICKCOX - Waterbury, Connecticut - early 1800's

OFFICER PROFILES

HAROLD THELIN is our new parliamentarian. He was born in Chicago. He grew up and worked in the area. Retiring from his job at the F.H.A., he came to Santa Barbara eleven years ago. He plays the violin and is a member of the Music Club. He enjoys square dancing, along with his wife. Merna McClenathen, another of our members, interested him in genealogy about five years ago.

Some of the families he is at work on include:

THELIN - Smoland, Sweden - 1786

DAISCH - Wuerttemberg, Germany - 1599

BREITMAYER - Wuerttemberg, Germany - d. 1728

VANAU - Wuerttemberg, Germany - d. 1626

MARJORIE NEFSTEAD is the corresponding secretary. She was profiled in the September, 1985, issue of ANCESTORS WEST. It should be noted that she met her husband at Iowa State University, which was incorrectly reported before. She continues her work with the Society, The League of Women Voters and the Friends of the Child Guidance Clinic, a Family Service Agency. She keeps working on her genealogy and is waiting for someone whose name is not Mary!

New areas of research:

SMITH - Richland County, Ohio - mid-1800's

TAYLOR - Richland County, Ohio - mid-1800's

COMMITTEE MEMBER PROFILES

NORMAN SCOFIELD has been an active member for a long time. You can find profiles of him in the March, 1984 and the March 1981 issues of ANCESTORS WEST. He has written several articles including one in September, 1981 on the usefulness of a computer. He will be currently serving as the head of the Incorporation Committee and the head of the Computer Group. He is part of a computer consulting firm and at home is working with the Quinsept Family Roots software.

Some families he is working with include:

SCOFIELD - Stamford, Connecticut - 1640

NELSON - Ulster County, Ireland - 1832

FOWLE - Charlestown, Massachusetts - 1630

GLADYS BECKWITH is off to a great start as our Ways and Means Committee head. She was a twin. Her brother died as a Prisoner of War in Manila during WW II. She was born in Minnesota and moved to the Los Angeles area when she was seven. She moved to Santa Barbara in 1951 and worked as an executive secretary for two research and development companies.

GLADYS BECKWITH (continued from preceding page)

Gladys was given her paternal ancestral record almost complete and is now working on taking that line even further back. She is also working on her maternal line. She is a member of many patriotic societies. She is a member of the Mayflower Society and has her papers in at the present time to join the Magna Carta Dames. Her current emphasis is in on Canadian research.

Areas of interest to Gladys include:

SMITH - Fremont, Wisconsin - 1855

SCHOEN - Berk County, Pennsylvania - 1850's

BEA McGRATH is the person putting of the Newsletters that keep the members up to date and informed. She is the only child of Charles Mohr and Mary Ann Bancker. She was born in New York city and raised in Bergenfield, New Jersey. She married John Joseph McGrath, who died young. She came to Santa Barbara the summer of 1957 with her mother and two sons. Bea recently retired from UCSB after 24 years. All her family lines settled in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Maryland.

Her current searches include:

BANCKER - New Amsterdam, now New York, NY - 1650

CANNON - Allegheny, Pennsylvania - 1840

LORDAN - County Cork, Ireland - 1800

McGRATH - County Waterford, Ireland - 1850

MILLER - Berne, Switzerland - 1840

MINAGHAN - County Cork, Ireland - 1800

MOHR - Bremen, Germany - 1880

SYLVIA BYERS is in charge of publicity. She was born in Burbank, California, which makes her a rare native here, but she is a first generation American. Her father was Swiss and her mother came from German parents in Posen, Poland, now under Russian control. In Switzerland family history is honored and a second cousin has traced the family back to 1386.

Jan Cloud got her started on the right track a while back. Now ninety-nine percent of her work is on her husbands' family. One of her four children is interested in genealogy so she has a future place for her records already.

Areas of concern to pass on to future generations:

BONVILLE - Yell County, Arkansas - Late 1800's

ROBERTSON - Cheshire County, N. H. - 1754

BANCROFT - Reading Settlement, MA - 1652

WARFIELD - Baltimore, MD - Late 1800's

BOARD MEMBER PROFILES

RUTH SCOLLIN has been profiled in the March, 1984 and March, 1983 issues of ANCESTORS WEST. She has served as the Society Librarian since 1980 and continues in this job. After her retirement as the Assistant Director of the Oaks Parent-Child Workshop, she started working part-time for her husband at Channel Paper Company. She is the secretary of the Santa Barbara Historical Society. She is the chairman of the Commission of the First Presbyterian Church Infant Day Care Center. This busy lady also serves on the board of the Valle Verde Retirement Home.

Her current genealogy work includes:
 SCOLLIN - Danbury, Connecticut - 1877
 WARREN - Storrs, Connecticut - 1883

MERNA McCLENATHEN is the SBCGS person in charge of membership. She was born in Inglewood, California. She graduated with the second class to come from the new campus of the University of California at Santa Barbara. She was a dietician who trained and worked in the bay area and Long Beach before returning to Santa Barbara in 1967. She recently left her job at Pinecrest Hospital to concentrate on other interests - like her roots! Her husband is a teacher with summers off, so they plan to travel and search together. She plays the flute with the Gilbert and Sullivan Company. Her unusual hobby is raising land tortoises.

She is working on more than seventy surnames. A few:
 BOGGS - Lancaster, Pennsylvania - 1814
 POWELL - Belmont County, Ohio - 1829
 GARRISON - Somerset County, New Jersey - 1815
 WALLACE - Franklin County, Pennsylvania - 1795

LILIAN MANN FISH continues as the editor of ANCESTORS WEST. She has quite a number of activities to keep her busy. She has served as the registrar for the National Society DAR, Mission Canyon, for many years. She is a practicing attorney and as such has been a member of the State Bar of California since 1932. She is an active member of the Santa Barbara Historical Society. She has a strong interest in gardening, which she thinks might be genetic, being descended from Burpee and Burbank families.

Lilian has a new computer and is looking for the time and impetus to learn how to use it. This is difficult because she does three things at once and can't seem to work it in.

Some of Lilian's families are:

BURPEE - Nova Scotia (New Brunswick), Canada - 1762
 BURBANK - Bradford, Massachusetts - 1700's
 BACHILOR - Hampton, New Hampshire - 1640
 GODDARD - Oyster River, New Hampshire - 1634

PITFALLS IN FAMILY RESEARCH

by Gayle H. Cloud, Historian

(Reprinted with permission from the "Cloud Family Journal", Vol. VII, No. 2. All rights reserved by the author.)

If someone were to make a boardgame for family researchers, one of the first things he would determine would be what type of obstacles there would be for confusing or delaying, sidetracking and defeating the players. He might call these obstacles "pitfalls". What might they be and where might they be placed?

One pitfall would be "name correlation", and it would be placed early in the game and would occur frequently, because it is the most tempting and greatest hazard in family research.

Name correlation uses the assumption that repetition of a certain name in the same location or set of documents indicates that all of the references belong to the same person. For example, one studying documents of Travis County, Texas from 1870 to 1920, would see many references to John W. Cloud. Often there are references to Rebecca, wife of John W. Cloud. If one were to fall into the pitfall lurking under these reference, he would assume that they all refer to the same John W. Cloud.

Careful study of documents, plus other sources such as newspapers and family documents on file in the Travis County Historical Collection at the local library in Austin, however, reveal tht there were actually two John W. Clouds (both with wives named Rebecca) living in Travis County during the years mentioned. The two John W. Clouds belong to different family lines and were not at all related.

Name correlation is tempting, especially when one wants desperately to make connections and find ancestors within a particular location or time. In the family research game, falling into this pitfall would mean forfeiting the game.

The second serious pitfall, for which penalty would be inability to finish the game, would be "failure to consult primary sources". Primary sources are such things as original records such as are found in courthouses: wills, deeds, court records, etc. This area of research presents a problem for many researchers who live in areas far from the county of interest. Many primary records have indeed been copied and published in book form. Unfortunately, once primary sources are copied and printed, they cease to be "primary sources" and become "secondary sources". Only the original, document, viewed either itself or on microfilm, is a primary source.

Logic explains this requirement, since people copying materials are subject to errors in transferring text from original document to notebook, then from notebook to typewritten page. Often the typewritten page is then set for printing by a typesetter, who is also subject to error. Many of the numerous books on Kentucky records contain errors in copying that are revealed by a careful comparison between the original document and the printed version.

Failure to consult primary sources often forms a "double pitfall" with name correlation. It can sidetrack a player forever and send him and anyone using his data down a path away from successful game completion. Unfortunately, a player on this path may not realize that he will never reach the actual goal of truly knowing where his family line belongs. Or if he does discover that he has been sidetracked, he may lose the game because it takes him too much time to get back on the right path.

On the game board, there is a pitfall that would occur close to that of errors in printed sources from primary documents. This would be called "assuming that something printed in a book is correct" and represents absolutely accurate data that can be taken as true without question.

There is a book on the Cloud Family which says that William T. Cloud, who was born 1841 in Kentucky and died 1917 in Oklahoma, "had no issue". Imagine the scene that resulted when my husband's father read this statement about his own grandfather, whom he had known well! He had great difficulty understanding how this could be said about a man who had so many living great-grandchildren!

In the game of family research, one must always remember that the printed word is only as good as the source from which it came. Information should never be taken as 100% accurate until proven by careful research by the person who is interested in the data.

Fourth on the game board would be the pitfall of a player's "getting angry" when someone disagrees with conclusions that he holds. Such an obstacle, for obvious reasons, would mean that the game would be completed alone and without the help of others or the fun of sharing. In family research, one is a vacuum. The game is only enjoyable if data and findings can be shared with those who belong to the line being researched.

In one family that I know, one person became angry because data she had purchased was proven erroneous by the long and careful research done by another member. The two family members no longer speak to one another and their situation causes great anguish and embarrassment for the rest of the family. No one in the family is interested in family research now, and the subject of ancestors is taboo at family gatherings.

"Feeling shame" about the actions of one's ancestors could delay or permanently suspend the family research game. History can't be changed, nor do the deeds or misdeeds of people from the past reflect in any way upon the behavior of present family members. Our forebears were people, with all of the human faults, failings, emotions and desires of those alive today. Finding closet skeletons or personal quirks is part of the fun of family history and adds spice and humanity to the game.

One of my greatest treasures is a picture of William T. Cloud and several of his brothers. All of the gentlemen appear very dignified in their Sunday best. Willie, as he was called within the family, is seated with a proud smile on his face. It is a lovely picture, and one that causes pride when viewed. However, when one looks closely he sees that Willie, all gussied up for the picture, failed to button the middle button of his vest! This small foible adds tremendous depth to the mental picture I have assembled of William Tasewell Cloud from all the research and documents and family stories. It is the thing that makes him my favorite among all the dead ancestors.

Desire to elevate one's ancestors to positions of prominence, thereby creating an opportunity for the player to "bask in reflected glory" is a common pitfall in family research. This particular pitfall is especially dangerous when playing in the category of Military Service or Finances. One family describes every bygone member as "prosperous or prominent"!

"Placing too much/too little reliance on stories handed down" in family traditions - two obstacles that delay the game by sending the researcher in the wrong directions - are related to the pitfalls of shame and pride. Traditions are important, for they can provide clues to guide research. But as family stories are told and as people's memories reach back progressively farther into time, details about family lines get blurred. Events and activities of Great-Grandmother's family become confused with those of Great-Great-Grandfather's, and errors are born.

Our family had a tradition that one ancestor had been a county sheriff. When we finally were able to view the original courthouse documents, we found that he had never been appointed or elected to this office at all, but that his father-in-law had! On the other hand, if we had dismissed the tradition completely as not being true, we would have missed the goal of actual discovery. There is often a grain of truth behind tradition or family legend.

The "Family Research" or "Genealogy Game" is a time-consuming, highly complex and confusing, frustrating and rewarding, worthwhile, marvelous pasttime - when played correctly. Can you think of other pitfalls that the designer of this game might place in the path of his players? And how many of the pitfalls mentioned above have delayed or distracted you in your search for information about your family? Hopefully, the next time you play the family history game, you will play with more precision. But for progeny's sake - in spite of the pitfalls - KEEP PLAYING!

(The editor regrets that it was necessary to condense Mrs. Cloud's clever article a bit because of space limitations.)

FOLKLORE CAN MAKE FAMILY'S HISTORY EASIER UNDERSTOOD from ANCESTORS UNLIMITED, Southwest Nebraska Gen. Soc. Vol. 9,#6, 1985, reprinted from the CHURCH NEWS, the newsletter of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints., the second in a series of articles with tips on genealogy and family history.

Studying family folklore can help people understand what kind of family they have, said Lynne Jorgensen, an LDS reference consultant. "You have to be ready at all times to collect family folklore," she continued. "Any family gathering may provide an opportunity. We should think of ourselves as fieldworkers."

Sister Jorgensen suggested that "fieldworkers" be alert for information on the following topics:

1. The family surname - its origin, meaning and any changes.
2. Traditional first names, middle names, and nicknames and how they came into being.
3. Stories passed down about parent, grandparents, more distant ancestors - their childhood, adolescence, schooling, marriage, work, religion, political activity, recreation.
4. Notorious or infamous characters in family's past.
5. How your ancestors met and married. Are there family stories of lost loves, jilted brides, unusual courtships, arranged marriages, elopements?
6. How historical events affected your family.
7. How a great fortune was lost or made. Are such incidents laughed about or deeply regretted?
8. Expressions used in the family. Did they come from specific incidents? Are there stories which explain their origin?
9. How holidays are celebrated - innovations, most important holidays, holidays unique to the family.
10. Family reunions - how often held, when, where, who organizes, who is invited, who comes, what happens; traditional customs, foods, activities.
11. Recipes preserved from past generations. Where did they originate? How were they passed down? Are they still used today?
12. Other persons incorporated into the family - their participation, titles: they were given.
13. Family cemetery. Who is buried near whom? Who makes burial place decisions? Are there grave markers, and what is inscribed on them?
14. Heirlooms or other objects of sentimental value - their origin, care, and method of passing from one generation to next.
15. Photo albums, scrapbooks, slides, home movies. Who created them? When are they displayed? How are they organized?

A man can't very well make for himself a place under the sun if he keeps continually taking refuge under the family tree.

BRANCHES AND TWIGS, Genealogy Soc. of Vermont, Tree Tops Section Vol. 14:4 contains 6 pages of EXCHANGE SCAN a listing of principal features of Exchange Periodicals. Because of the impossibility of one person rendering such a service, ANCESTORS has only had GLEANINGS produced by the Editor and the extensive listings furnished by Ruth Scollin, the SBOGS Librarian in each issue. With the many new members, perhaps such a service will be undertaken and greatly enhance the contents of ANCESTORS WEST. Will you volunteer?

A volunteer to abstract ANCESTORS WEST according to the rules of The Family History Newsletter is also needed.

Derivation of surname: A nickname from the Middle English word tod(de) of Old Norse origina, meaning fox; either an occupational or descriptive name.

Variants of the surname: TOD, TODD, TODDE, TODDS, TODHUNTER, TODMAN, TOKILL, TODE, TOAD & TOED

Early English locations: Cumberland, Co. Durham, Norfolk, Northumberland, Oxfordshire, Yorkshire and Worcestershire

Early Scottish locations: Aberdeenshire and Berwickshire.

Its publication pages provide the only medium which is specific to the surname and its variants. They offer the opportunity for a regular and frequent exchange of information; the inclusion of your submitted Pedigrees; your sought-after Ancestors; details of relevant sources for research - plus whatever else you want to be included. It is hoped to distribute by subscription at least 1 publication page every month. Periodically a copy will be deposited with the Guild of One Name Studies. TOD ANCESTRY index contains about 3,000 births, baptisms, marriages and deaths. Earliest current entry is dated 1168 and the latest 1980. Page 1: January 1986 received by SBOGS. Page 2 will contain useful guidelines for Family Research and a preliminary list of fellow researchers will also be included.

Good response is reported regarding the notice of the Scrimgeour Genealogy chart (Ancestral Chart) on page 47 Vol 11:2, June 1985 ANCESTORS WEST. The Ancestral Chart - Directions for Chart Use appear on the facing page - is now available at the address shown for $7.95 plus a $2.00 handling and mailing charge. Comes rolled in a tube, printed on high quality heavy paper and allows display of nine generations of ancestors - not only by name, but also by life span, locality and occupation. See illustration of a portion of such a chart. Suitable for framing.

Also in the process of development is a genealogical research book consisting of 65 ancestral surname cards allowing space for 715 different names in a high quality 6½" x 8½" binder. Each surname card has space for six persons of the same surname and their wives, with space to list pertinent data for each ancestor. Each card is limited to one surname, making for ease of reference and accessibility of information. Quantity prices available on request.

INGERSOLL, Sarah² (m. William Hinds) Richard¹ Mat. Bates). Can you help?

The SCRIMGEOUR ANCESTRAL CHART allows you to trace nine generations of ancestors—not only by name, but also by life span, locality, and occupation.

To use the chart, fill in the information regarding yourself in Block 1. Then enter the information regarding your father in Block 2 and your mother in Block 3. For each subsequent person, the information regarding the person's father would be entered in the box numbering twice his own. Information pertaining to the person's mother would be entered in the box one number higher than his father's. Refer to the key below for the appropriate coding. Please note that the boxes for male and female are coded differently.

For instance, in the example chart below, information regarding the father of John B. Cummings (20) would be entered in Block 40 (Thomas Cummings). Information pertaining to his mother (Lois Boardman) would be entered in Block 41. This pattern remains consistent throughout the chart. In addition, the generations are designated by the numerals shown vertically on the outside edges.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

One of California's 27 original counties. While the county was actually created in 1850, the history of the area dates back to 1542. In that year Juan Cabrillo discovered the Santa Barbara Channel and later, according to legend crossed to San Miguel Island, where he died and was buried. A second Spanish explorer, Sebastian Vizcaino entered the channel on the same day. Saino Barbara in 1602 and named the Saline Barbara. Juanjo Serris founded the Santa Barbara mission in 1786. Santa Barbara Royal Presidio, established April 21, 1782, was the last of four royal presidios in Alta California - San Diego, Monterey, San Francisco and Santa Barbara. Santa Barbara had all three Spanish forms: Presidio representing the military; Pueblo, civil and Mission, religious. In 1873 Ventura County was established from the southern portion of the original Santa Barbara area.
