 PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In October of 1965, near Monte Carlo in the heart of the French Riviera in the midst of the construction of a new resort hotel, an archeologist discovered an ancient camp site of early man. All construction stopped while a team of archeologists eagerly and painstakingly examined all artifacts to be found there. They determined that the site was about four hundred thousand years old and one of the most exciting artifacts found was the foot print of an adult man. He had stepped in a muddy part of the beach and now, his muddy foot print turned to stone, we know he had slipped a little when he took that step on that far away day.

The French Riviera was a great place to be then as now, so they must have had a very good travel agent. Accommodations were rather primitive and restaurants were hard to find. They didn't wear many clothes but they don't now either. No progress in that department for four hundred thousand years! I did some rough calculations, figuring twenty-five years per generation and concluded that there are 16,000 generations between us and them. Plenty of work remains for even the most avid genealogist. We may have some difficulty tracing that many generations but the S.B.C.G. S. stands ready to help every one unravel the mysteries of their own roots. Jan Cloud, our V. P. program, has a marvelous agenda planned; Ruth Scollin, our Librarian, together with her helpers has 1000 volumes for your perusal. Audrey Guntermann, our Bus chairlady, will take you to Los Angeles libraries (sorry its not the French Riviera); Ruth Tapper, our Hospitality Chairlady, will ply you with goodies. These ladies and all the other volunteers help make the S.B.C.G.S. a great society to be part of. Our meeting, facilities and services are rewarding, challenging, exciting and above all fun. Be an author. Write your own genealogy. For your descendants, that may be the "foot print" you leave behind. The 1989 model year is beginning in September. See you at the Goleta Community Center. Bring your friends. Go to the French Riviera some other time.

It has been suggested that plain, blunt, easily understood language be used to say that ten years under one editor is long enough for ANCESTORS WEST and that by December other arrangements should be well under way. At the suggestion of Olive Franklin and the Editor, supported by Jan Cloud and hopefully a general feeling in the membership, new forms of special interest details have been prepared and submitted to Bea McGrath as Editor of TREE TIPS, to go to the membership with the September Newsletter. It is time to improve communication and personal interaction in SRCGS. Also it is time to set up study, research or exploratory groups from those with similar interests. Thus far few suggestions have come to the attention of the Editor. DON'T BE BASHFUL in disclosing your capabilities, ambitions and attainments. Date your communications. START THEM COMING NOW.

RUSSELL ANTONIO RUIZ (3 September 1925 - 25 June, 1988)

A native Santa Barbaran and direct descendant of Felipe de Goycochea, commandante of the Spanish Royal Presidio in Santa Barbara, friend of S.B.C.G.S., former photographer for the U. S. Navy, veteran of World War II and longtime artist/historian, Russell Antonio Ruiz died Saturday, 25 June 1988 at the Veterans Administration Hospital in West Los Angeles after a long illness. He was the son of Angelo A. Ruiz and Isabel Juana Willoughby Ruiz and is survived by his wife, Alice Ruth Clay Ruiz, and a son, Russell Clay Ruiz; also two brothers, Edmund A. Ruiz, of Oxnard, California, and Carlos R. Ruiz of Tulsa, Oklahoma; a sister, Alice M. Sanders of Oxnard, and a half-sister, Ida Barbeve Silva, of Santa Barbara.

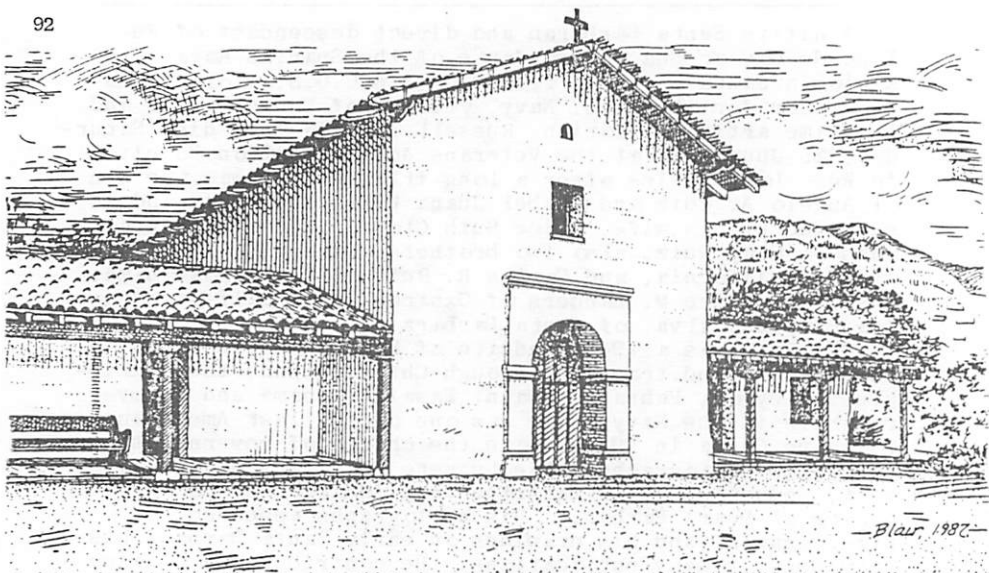

Mr. Ruiz was a 1948 graduate of Brooks Institute of Photography and traveled through China, Japan, the Philippines, Ceylon, Bahrain, Spain, Hawaii, Panama and Palmyra while in the Navy. He was one of the last Americans to leave China in 1949 before the change of government. Among his photography subjects were Franklin Delano Roosevelt, General Douglas MacArthur and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz at Pearl Harbor. His photographs appeared in Life magazine and his drawings on early Santa Barbara history were in many publications. He contributed a drawing of the Santa Barbara Presidio for publication in ANCESTORS WEST and authorized its use by S.B.G.G. S. on notepaper.

Mr. Ruiz volunteered his work for Presidio restoration for more than 30 years. He was also a former volunteer for La Vista Club for the Blind and Handicapped, a life member of the Santa Barbara Historical Society and a Grand Historian for the Native Sons of the Golden West. In 1977, he was an honorary grand marshal of the Old Spanish Days parade. He served as Honorary Life Trustee for the Santa Barbara Trust for Historic Preservation, was a member of Los Californianos and of Los Pobladores 200, a historian for the Quabaji Indian Association and a life member of the Disabled American Veterans.

Graveside services were held 29 June 1988, at Santa Barbara Cemetery. * * * * *

When calling upon Jarrell C. Jackman, Ph.D., Projects Administrator for the Santa Barbara Trust for Historic Preservation, your Editor learned there is a distinct possibility that arrangements might be made, down a period of years to come, for location of the SBCGS Library in a portion of the Presidio yet to be reconstructed. This possibility was brought before the Board of Directors at its August meeting and should be made known to the general membership. * * * * *

It seems appropriate to reproduce in this issue of ANCESTORS WEST, the 1988 handout to visitors to the El Presidio Chapel. Of special interest is the list of Chapel Furnishings, with Source or Donor.

Handout to Visitors, 1988

El Presidio Chapel

You are entering a re-creation of the chapel of the late 18th century Spanish Royal Presidio of Santa Barbara. Only stone foundations remained of this building, but excavations and a careful study of all known documentary sources permitted the reconstruction of what the structure and its interior could well have looked like. Where information was lacking, other buildings of a similar period and function were used as models.

A water color made by the American artist James Madison Alden in 1855 served as a basis for the exterior design, while excavations provided the dimensions. An 1850's inventory and other records supplied information concerning the furnishings, but there are no presently known descriptions of the decorative embellishments. Yet, we know that it was richly decorated and that Presidio invoices included colors for paints sent from Mexico. The principal colors are typical of California and Mexico in this period; the dark blue reproduces a color found in El Cuartel, one of the two surviving structures of the Santa Barbara Presidio, while the red and yellow ochre were uncovered in the excavations of the San Diego Presidio.

The border on top of the typical red dado along the bottom of the walls is a reproduction based on a fragmentary design found in the Presidio Chapel of Monterey, California. The design along the top of the wall represents a cloth valance or lambrequin of a sort found in this same chapel. The masonry design surrounding the side door was suggested by decorations around a door at Mission Purisima Concepcion in San Antonio, Texas, while the cross and pennants come from a lost design inside one of the towers of Mission Santa Barbara.

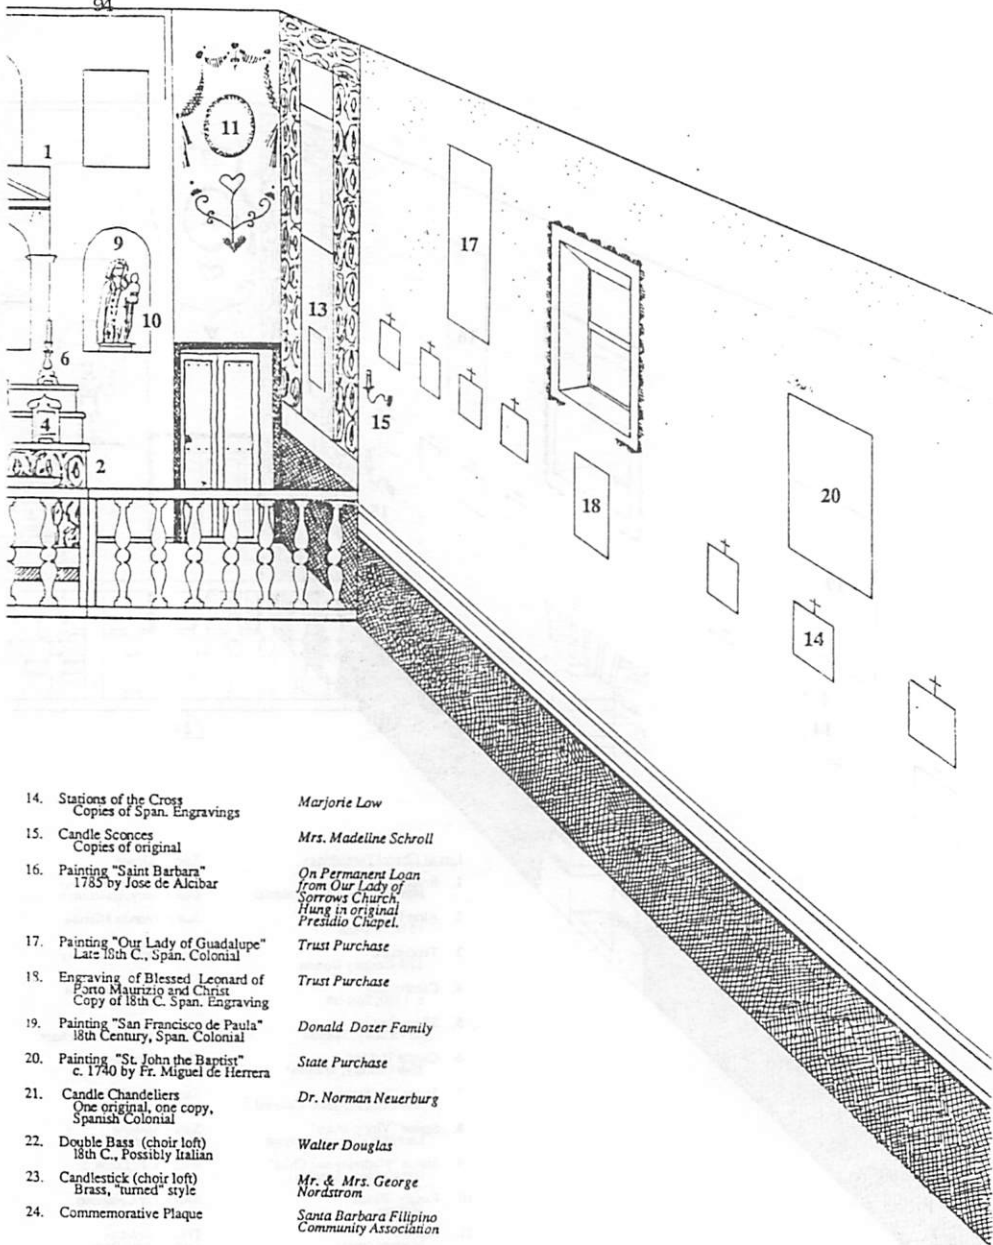

An altar railing painted to imitate colored marble separates the area where Mass was said from the zone of the congregation. The central niche of the altar piece is framed by an antique carving once belonging to the De la Guerra family of Santa Barbara. At the sides, a design suggested by a mural decoration in an old adobe house on Santa Cruz Island surmounts a real and a painted doorway. Above these, painted draperies frame the spaces for a pair of oval mirrors like those donated to the chapel by Captain George Vancouver in 1793.

The side walls of the altar area are covered by painted renderings of brocades of the sort that often covered the walls of churches for festivals. An actual length of such church hangings served as the model. The vine and floral border separating these from the red dado is based on a design engraved on a horn cup done by Indian neophytes at Mission San Gabriel. The simple vine motif on the ceiling beams comes from two missions in Arizona, San Xavier del Bac and Tumacacori, while the acanthus motif on the corbels is based on a design in the Old Stone Church at Mission San Juan Capistrano.

The furnishings, as yet incomplete, come from Spanish and Mexican sources as they would have two centuries ago. The velvet altar frontal, dated 1578, could have been an heirloom handed down over the centuries. The silvered altar card frames are from a chapel near Burgos in Spain and are contemporary with the original chapel. The two paintings beneath the windows are from South America, while the Stations of the Cross are modern impressions from 18th century copper plates and fit the description of those mentioned in the inventory. When original pieces or proper replicas cannot be found pieces of appropriate period and style take their places.

The rich appearance of the interior is in stark contrast to the simplicity of the exterior. Such an effect must have been appreciated by the inhabitants of the presidio. Isolated as they were--almost exiled one might say--in a strange and harsh land on the very edge of Christendom, it must have been comforting to enter a sanctuary which reminded them of home.

PUTTING A MARKER ON AN ANCESTOR'S GRAVE

Last fall, I heard for the first time from Glyna (Appling) Nickels, of Springfield, Missouri. Glyna, it turned out, was a second cousin, once removed. Her father, Chandos Appling, aged 85, and I are second cousins. Chandos' grandfather, John W. Appling, and my grandfather, Edward H. Appling, were brothers, both sons of James M. Appling. James, who was born in Kentucky, brought his wife Elizabeth (Barnes) and their baby daughter to Missouri in 1835. They settled in the area which became Laclede Co., and in 1849, James and his wife gave land for the founding of Lebanon, the county seat. Elizabeth died thirty-five years before her husband and is buried on what was then the family farm outside of Lebanon.

In his later years James lived among his children. He was visiting his son John W., near Richland, Camden Co., Missouri, when he died. It was winter, & the creeks were up, so it was impossible to bring his body back to Lebanon to lie beside his wife. He was buried at Glover Chapel, not far from John W.'s farm in a grave marked only by field stones. No other Appling is buried in that cemetery. Chandos Appling, who still lives near there, was the last of his generation to remember where James' grave was. Chandos' daughter Glyna was afraid that the knowledge of the location of James' grave would soon be forgotten, so she determined to put a marker on the spot. The reason she was writing to me was that she wanted to know what information I had about this common ancestor of ours. We found that although we agreed generally on when and where he was born, we had three different death dates for him. County death records were not kept that early, and we were unable to locate a family Bible. Since James had been prominent in the founding of Lebanon and in its development, Glyna ordered several rolls of microfilm of the Laclede Co. newspapers of that time period. It was painstaking work, but she was finally rewarded with the report of James' death, several years later than anyone had realized he'd died.

The information gathering complete, it was time to order the stone. In contacting various relatives seeking information on James M., Glyna had interested other descendants in her project. Many volunteered to help pay for the stone. Then Glyna graciously invited me back to Missouri to see the stone after it was set in place. Of course, I accepted! And in May of this year, the descendants of James M. Appling gathered together at his last resting place to view the stone that they had purchased for his grave. And what a marker it was! We had purchased a light blue granite marker, with rustic edges, 42" X 14" X 6". And on the stone was written all of the following:

PUTTING A MARKER ON AN ANCESTOR'S GRAVE, continuedJAMES M APPLING

NOV. 24, 1811--NOV. 3, 1895

BORN IN KENTUCKY

SON OF JOEL &amp; SALLY BREEDLOVE APPLING

MARRIED ELIZABETH BARNES, SIMPSON CO KENTUCKY 1834

PARENTS OF

SARAH ANN, 1835, AURELIUS M "ALEXANDER", 1839 JAMES
 W, 1841 MARGARET ELLEN, 1845 JOHN W. 1846 COLUMBUS

 TO MISSOURI 1835 FARMER, CIVIC LEADER

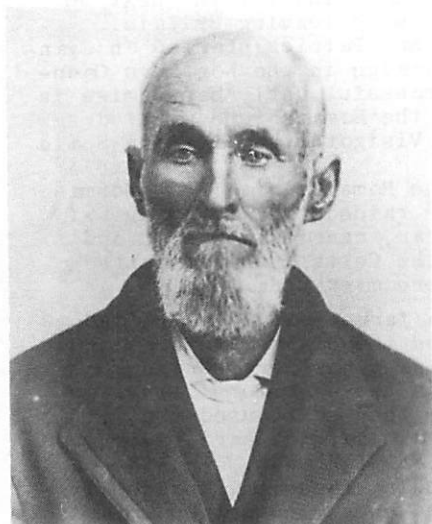

GAVE LAND FOR LACLEDE CO SEAT, LEBANON MO 1849

BY HIS DESCENDANTS 1988

Because Glyna (Appling) Nickels, great great granddaughter of James M. APPLING, did not want that ancestor's grave to be "lost", future descendants, and all others who may view that marker, will know exactly who James M. Appling was.

If any of you think you might want to undertake a similar project, carefully consider what information you will put on the stone. Just think of the opportunity you have to immortalize your ancestor! You may also be lucky enough to meet a lot of nice people--who just happen to be related to you.

Marilyn (Appling) Owen

JAMES M. APPLING

None of the family gathered in Missouri had a photo of James APPLING. Mrs. Miles APPLING of Lebanon, Missouri, had kept several old letters from different relatives, each inquiring about the history of the family. One letter from Charmaine LEAVITT of Kalamazoo, MI, was twenty-five years old. Was it possible that she still lived at the same address? Much to my surprise she did! And what's more, this great great granddaughter of James M. Appling (through his son, James W.), had his picture (copy of which is at left)!

BRITAIN, ANCESTRAL HOME OF MANY AMERICANS

Resume of Talk by Member FRANK B. SMITH
(No. S-08 on April 26, 1988 Membership List)

This resume of a talk, given several years ago at a membership meeting of SBCGS, outlines the sequence of changes in population and development of language in Britain, the ancestral home of many Americans.

The languages have been Pict, Celt, Latin, Bulgar German, Saxon, Anglian, Danish, Old Norse, French, Old English, Anglo-Saxon, but not in that order.

B. C.

- 3000-1000 Short, dark people from southwestern Europe invaded Britain successfully and enslaved or drove out the natives.
- 1000 B.C. The Picts, a fairer people, came from France and invaded Britain. Drove the south Europeans out into the mountains or they stayed on as servants of the Picts. The Picts were ancestors of many of the Scots. Welch and Irish mountaineers who would not stay as servants.
- 700-800 B.C. Celts, a fair-haired tribe, invaded and ruled until the Roman legions took over the tin mines and London and shortly thereafter all of England. Many of the Celts went to Ireland and the neighboring islands and Northumberland.
- 35 B. C. - The Roman legions took over and built roads and Cathedrals, brought some Christianity and ruled until about 350 A. D.
- 410 A.D. Visigoths sacked Rome and for the next 30 years the Romans were leaving Britain. About 389 A. D. St. Patrick started an Evangelicalistic Campaign in the Northern Counties and was successful until his demise in 461 A.D. While the Romans were worried about Rome, the Visigoths had overrun Spain also.
- 5th-6th Centuries As soon as the Romans left, West German soldier-farmers raided the East Coast of England every year, carried off loot and eventually ran the Celts out and settled there. These were mostly Saxons.
- 6th-7th Centuries Anglians, also farmer-soldiers, raided and Vikings moved the Saxons south and west. Any Celts remaining now were servants as they had to learn the newcomers' language although at home they still used the Celtic language. They did not try hard to conquer Wales nor the Scot Highlands.
- 8th Century Vikings, including Norsemen, invaded Ireland, which had no army, and set up a Capitol in Dublin, whence they raided the Northern Counties of England each Spring and under Danelaw collected tribute.

BRITAIN, ANCESTRAL HOME OF MANY AMERICANS

- 853 A.D. King Alfred, eht Great (the only King called The Great) built a Navy and with other lessor kings and barons met and defeated the raiders and broke their power. The language now was Old English or a combination of Anglican and Saxon called Anglo-Saxon.
- 1066 Battle of Hastings. Vikings, who had overrun the Gauls in France, with 12,000 armed men took over England's 2,000,000 people. Anglo-Norman language was now the official language, Latin in Church and Franch in Court. The Normans seized all valuable properties plus churches and gave them to their cohorts, but they did build the Tower of London, etc.
- 1169-1172 Conquest of Ireland
- 1250-1300 Middle English
- 13th-14th Century The average man now sues his neighbor in Court, prays in Latin at Church and spans his children in Anglo-Saxon as bottom, buttocks, rump and butt have German roots.
- 1385 All grammar schools leanneth English With the collapse of the Norman language, the country was split into two major pronunciations - Liverpool to London, East or West. West and South added vowels no-noe, Anglian Heven, Saxon Heofon.

Comments on American accents:

Pronunciation of New England areas found in Chesapeake Bay. New Englanders also settled in New Jersey in 1665. The North Carolina-Brooklyn dialect is Yorkshire.

Do not attempt to correct anyone's pronunciation, as wherever you or wherever they came from, that is the proper way to say it. Two hundred twenty thousand Londoners and four and a half million others try to imitate them. Anglo and Saxon were hoined in Holy Worfolk many years ago.

In the December, 1987 TREE TIPS Newsletter, it was noted: "WE ARE PLEASED AS PUNCH BECAUSE

1. Frank Smith has kindly donated a collection of books and papers to our Library.
2. Margaret Cox, Olive Franklin and Ruth Ruhl have renewed membership as Friends of our Society
3. We are very fortunate to have so many volunteers who quyetky carry on a variety of activities which help and serve us all.
4. The City of Los Angeles does intend to operate a temporary facility until the reconstruction program can be completed. (Perhaps the word should be Did intend.) See letter elsewhere in this bulletin."

NOTE: Please comment on the change in format used by this member.. In his opinion place names were extremely important.
 *****
 When making up the copy, a question arose as to what to use as a filler?
 Solution: Make up the index. Call p.133 THIS 'N THAT and add filler next day. Obituaries in 18 August paper solved the dilemma.

THE SEED BED

A Column of Local Sources

by Marilyn Owen

The Genealogical collection of the Ventura County Genealogical Society, is housed in the Ventura County Library, E.P. Foster branch, 651 E. Main Street, Ventura, CA. The materials are shelved in an attractive, comfortable area, with two (10¢) zerox machines very close at hand. The library is open, Monday through Thursday, 10-9; Friday and Saturday, 10-5; and on Sunday, 1-4. A volunteer from the Ventura County Genealogical Society, is usually there on week days, from 1-3. Otherwise, you're on your own to search the handy card catalogue of the collection, and/or to browse through the shelves.

Parking is available in a city lot behind the library. Please be sure to notice, however, that the row of parking spaces closest to the back of the library, has a posted one-hour limit, and the meter-maid does come by regularly to check! There are plenty of spaces in the middle and on the far side of the lot, which have unlimited time for parking. If they should be all filled when you arrive, it may be necessary to first take an hour spot, until an unlimited spot opens up.

The directions from Santa Barbara to the library are: take the Ventura Ave. exit and turn right (on Thompson Blvd). Turn left at the third stop light (Chestnut St.). Continue on Chestnut, and after the second stop light, proceed three quarters of the way up the hill, and turn right into the city lot behind the Library.

Following is a selected list of some of the titles in the collection:

Note: The foregoing is an Inventory of Santa Barbara County Records which have been microfilmed and the originals lodged with the Santa Barbara Historical Society. They are available for research at the Gledhill Library, in the Santa Barbara Historical Society Museum during library hours - Tuesday through Friday of each week, 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Contact the Librarian, Mike Redmon, who supplied the above finding list.

Elsewhere in this issue (pp. 135-139) are Lists of Aged Persons Supported by Santa Barbara County, copied by SBCGS V.P. Jan Cloud from the originals at the Historical Society library. Unfortunately the article was not received until after collation and indexing had been done. Because of its relevance and to familiarize readers with content, the Editor felt it should not be withheld until the December issue.

PHOTOGRAPHING YOUR HERITAGE, Wilma Sadler Shull, c. Ancestry, Incorporated, 1988 Library of Congress Catalog Card No. 88-70335 ISBN No. 0-916489-31-0, paperback, available from Ancestry, Inc. P. O. Box 476, Salt Lake City, UT 84110 $7.95. 128 pp. Introduction vii-viii; Index 125-128.

The introduction states the aim of the book is to help the reader accomplish the goal of learning how to use a camera more efficiently and to make the family's history more interesting and complete. There is profuse illustration - often to show the effect of different exposures.

The frontispiece is a photograph taken while the author was attending an Ansel Adams course in Yosemite, California, in 1971. She also attended Brownville School of Art, adult education classes and workshops in local schools and colleges. Apart from this training, books and magazines have been her teachers in the fields of photography and art. Mrs. Shull has won numerous awards in photography and painting. Her work has been published in the Omaha World Herald, the Lincoln Journal, the Norfolk Daily News, and the Grand Island Independent. Examples of her work appears in the purchase-award collection of the Nebraska Arts Museum at Kearney, Nebraska. She resides in Grand Island, Nebraska.

SBCGS members are encouraged to inquire for the copy in the Society Library and to browse through it. The index is comprehensive, references to illustrations appearing in italics

For those whose minds are geared for technical details, in the Conclusion (p. 122) cites a number of Kodak publications and The Encyclopedia of Photography, published by the Graystone Press. She questions why genealogy appeals to some and not to others to whom it is as mysterious as a computer chip and queries: "Do genealogists have more than their share of curiosity, persistence and patience?"

BOOK REVIEWS

A GUIDE TO VIRGINIA MILITIA UNITS IN THE WAR OF 1812, Stuart Lee Butler ISBN 0-935931-41-4. Acid-free paperback, $20.00, Review copy received from publisher, Iberian Pub. Co. 548 Cedar Creek Drive, Athens, GA 30605-3408 345 pp.

For the past 15 years, Stuart Butler has been an archivist with the National Archives and Records Administration, Washington, D. C.. A native Virginian, Mr. Butler's family has lived in Virginia since the 17th century. He is a member of the Virginia Genealogical Society and currently is serving as President of the Fairfax Resolves Chapter of S.A.R. He is also author of Virginia Soldiers in the U. S. Army, 1800-1815, published by Iberian Pub Co. Son of an Army officer, he has lived in Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Florida and France.

The introduction states that the book is not intended to be a history of the Virginia militia during the War of 1812 but rather, a guide to the militia units raised in Virginia during that conflict. Part I describes the organization of the Virginia Militia Part II Theaters of Action and Part III County Listings of Regiments The Petersburg Volunteers and the Richmond Washington Volunteers were enrolled in the Federal service through state recruitment but were not officially part of the Virginia militia establishment. (p. 37) Units are described by Counties, alphabetically. (pp. 30-217) Time and place of service is shown Appendices:

1. List of Va. counties during War of 1812 and their regimental, brigade and divisional designations and numerical regimental designation of counties
2. Northwestern Army Command. Norfolk Commands. Richmond and Northern Neck Commands. Other Commands.
3. Virginia counties formed during and after the War of 1812. West Virginia counties formed since 1814.
4. Listing of company or detachment commanders recognized as constituting a separate command as reflected in the original muster and payrolls
5. Biographical sketches
6. Maps and photos (insert following p. 311)
7. Chronology of events
- 7 Bibliography Index 323-345

Until now, the most comprehensive publications dealing with the War of 1812 in Virginia are the Muster Rolls of the Virginia Militia in the War of 1812 (Richmond, 1850) and a companion volume, Pay Rolls of Militia Entitled to Land Bounty under the Congress of September 28, 1850, Richmond, 1852). There is no name index for the thousands of names appearing in those volumes. Hence the books are practically useless unless the reader knows the unit in which a soldier served. It is also claimed there are factual errors, examples of which are given in the Preface b

ITEM FROM Daily News, Ventura, July 12, 1988:

Dennis McCarthy, OLD TOMBSTONE CREATES MYSTERY FOR HOME-OWNER. Who was Barbarbara Bennett, born 1868, died 1906. Where did he live? Where was she buried? And why. 82 years after her death, did her tombstone turn up under Linda Martin's palm tree in Porter Ranch? The tombstone is now propped up in Linda Martin's patio but she would like to return it to the gravesite where it belongs.

SMITH, Melancton; Othniel WHO WERE FOREBEARS?

In Tree Tips dated July-August 1988, p. 2, under "Unusual Names" are those of Melancton and Othniel Smith. I had not heard of Othniel but possibly he was brother to Melancton, and wonder who found these names and where.

I have been searching for forbears of Melancton Smith Wade, who was b. 2 Dec. 1802, d. 11 Aug. 1868, age 65, Cincinnati, Ohio. He married 12 Aug. 1823, Elizabeth Armstrong, born 4 Feb. 1804, d. 27 Oct. 1861, Cincinnati, O.

No will is available for him as the courthouse burned in 1884.

Henry Howe's Historical Collections of Ohio, p. 772, lists M. S. Wade along with many other prominent Ohioans "supplied by Cincinnati" for the "cabinet and field".

Ohio Historical Society sent a brief Obituary from the Cincinnati Enquirer, dated 12 Aug. 1868. "Wade, Tuesday August 11 at 10 1/2 O'clock A.M. at his residence, in Avondale, of congestion of the brain, General Melancthon S. Wade, in the 66th year of his age."

With high hopes, I sent an inquiry to National Archives. They replied that M.S. Wade was in the Regular Army for which they do not have records. Who does?

In studying what little material I had, I thought Smith must have been a family name and perhaps the maiden name of Melancton's mother. I studied the many Smiths in the DAR Patriot Index, and there I found Melancton Smith. Again with high hopes I sent to NSDAR for copy of papers, which give the following information. Melancton Smith was b. 7 May 1744, Long Island, NY, d. 27 July 1798, m. his 2nd wife, 17 March 1772, Long Island, NY. She was Margaret Mott, b. 21 Sept. 1750, d. 11 May 9 (which I assume means 1809). Children: 1. Melancton, b. 1790, m. Cornelia Jones; 2. Sidney, b. 27 March 1782, m. Phebe Alta Bailey, 3. Phebe m. John Blueker. No daughter who m. a Wade. Most families were large in that era and I wonder if all of the children were found or if he had children by a first wife. The information about Melancton Smith is interesting, a copy follows.

"Judge Melancton Smith represented the County of Dutchess (May 1775) in the first Provincial Congress of New York. On June 22, 1776 was appointed Captain Commandant of three companies of militia raised in Dutchess and Westchester and the next year was placed on the committee to preserve and subdue insurrection and dissatisfaction in those counties. Served as first sheriff of Dutchess county four years from 1776 to 1780, and was afterward made Judge of Common Pleas. In 1778 he represented Dutchess County in the Poughkeepsie Convention for the ratification of the New Constitution."

I'm still wondering whether Melancton Smith Wade was descended from Melancton Smith or was just named for a revolutionary hero. The name Melancton was given to several of Melancton Smith Wade's descendants. In Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, OH, there is Melancthon Smith Wade, Jr., Melancthon A. Wade, and "Little Mank" who died as an infant.

WALSMITH CORRECTIONS

Mrs. Thelma Berkey Walsmith, C.A.I.S., 919 Via Fedora, Santa Maria, CA 93455, has called the Editor's attention to several typographical errors in the June 1988 ANCESTORS WEST in the spelling of both her first and last names and in her area of research. That is PENNSYLVANIA. Also in the listing of items that appeared in The California Senior Magazine, Vol. 7, No. 10, March, 1988, an article which she wrote was incorrectly attributed to Thomas not Thelma B. Walsmith. Title: BEWARE OF FAMILY FLIM-FLAM MAN.

* * * * *

One SBCGS member has also called attention to lengthy lists of family histories advertised as being available TO FAMILY RESEARCHERS and subject to warnings as to completeness and usefulness. * * * * *

* * * * *

Member Carolyn Crawford has called attention to THE OAHU CEMETERY PROJECT.

Project director, Nanette Napoleon Purnell conducted a one year, full time study and documentation of Oahu's cemeteries. As a major part of the project she compiled a directory of 9,000 tombstone inscriptions from 46 Oahu cemeteries. She was the guest speaker at the Hawaiian Historical Society's annual meeting in May, 1987. She discussed ethnic memorial and burial practices on Oahu.

OBITUARY NOTES ALICE DELANO de FOREST SEDGWICK, born 6 Nov. 1906 at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, age 79, childhood friend of Theodore Roosevelt and Rudyard Kipling, both friends of her father, Henry Wheeler de Forest. Her mother was Julia Gilman Noyes de Forest. Burial will be in the family plot in Ballard Cemetery. Her father was President of the Southern Pacific railroad from 1925 to 1928, when he became chairman of the board. She married Francis Minturn Sedgwick in 1929 at Grace Church in New York. He died in Santa Barbara in 1967. She was an eighth-generation descendant of Jesse de Forest of Avannes, France, who in 1601 married Marie du Cloux and later went into Huguenot exile in Holland. According to the family, in 1623 he led a group of Walloons and French exiles to New Netherlands on the ship Nieuwe Nederlandt, establishing the first permanent settlement on Manhattan Island in 1624. In Santa Barbara County she and her husband bought a fruit ranch off Cathedral Oaks Road in the early 1930s, purchased Rancho Corral de Quati in 1942 (now a part of the Firestone vineyards of Santa Ynez Valley) and in 1952 bought Rancho La Lugana de San Francisco, at the base of Figueroa Mountain. A major portion of that ranch and a collection of Renaissance paintings, was donated by the Sedgwicks to UCSB.

ELEANOR "Dodie" BLANCHARD WATANABE BLOW, 83, 9 year resident, died 11 Aug 1988. Born 28 May 1905 in Tasmania; moved to New York City in early 1930s when she married Jerry "Hideo" Watanabe, son of Awajiro Watanabe, one of the early developers of the Mitsui Import Co. of Japan. She later married Milton Blow, founder of Milton Blow Advertising, and moved to Santa Barbara in 1977, after his death. She was the last surviving sister of Santa Barbara resident, Dorothy Blanchard Hammerstein, wife of Oscar Hammerstein, Broadway lyricist and librettist.

 SAMPLE "HISTORIC" RECIPE

Supplied by Member Barbara Ford to V. P. Jan Cloud

PRE-CIVIL WAR SALAD

2 Whole Eggs, well beaten
 Juice and rind of 1 lemon or 3/4 tbs. Lemon juice
 2 teaspoons Dry Mustard

Cook the above ingredients in a double boiler until thickened.

Add 30 large marshmallows. Let them melt and heat mixture until smooth

Set aside until completely cooled.

Whip 3/4 pint of whipping cream. Mix all together and add a large can of drained crushed pineapple, or diced pineapple, 1/2 to 1 cup of pecans 1/2 cup halved maraschino cherries.

Let set overnight in refrigerator

Note: The maraschino cherries are a modern addition to this old recipe, mostly to give it a bit of color.

My grandmother and Mother always made their own marshmallows by boiling a calf's hoof until a gelatin-like substance was extracted. This was combined with beaten egg whites, allowed to set, cut in squares, and rolled in powdered sugar. I always got the job of making the powdered sugar by crushing granulated sugar with a rolling-pin.

Barbara Ford

Note, Jan Cloud: The main recipe has obviously been updated with ready made marshmallows and directions using a refrigerator. However, thought the historical info on marshmallows at the end to be quite interesting.

Since the announcement in the June issue of ANCESTORS WEST regarding family recipes for Christmas cookies, etc., to be included in the December issue, making use of those already submitted to Marge Neftstead as a starter, one member has suggested that members might express their attitude toward including an old "historical" recipe in each issue of ANCESTORS WEST. Comment is solicited.

Another suggestion: Copy one obituary a month from old newspapers.

LIST OF AGED PERSONS SUPPORTED BY SANTA BARBARA COUNTY
 Submitted-Jan Cloud OUTSIDE OF HOSPITAL
 (Original now at the Santa Barbara Co. Historical Society)

Some of the entries also indicate with whom the recipient is living and whether that person is related.

Spelling of some names varies with the page. They were copied as carefully as possible, though interpretation was sometimes needed of these handwritten lists. There are also several instances where sex stated does not seem to match the given name.

Residence is Santa Barbara unless noted otherwise.

Dear Friends:

Enclosed, a little recognition for work done on RIM. It doesn't imply "completion" so continue to submit any and all inventory forms and record lists you wish. Can't give you any firm dates for the filming, but the cameras are still active. Watch the CSGA Newsletter for announcements.

Sincerely,

Carlton M. Smith

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

One of California's 27 original counties. While the county was actually created in 1850, the history of the area dates back to 1542. In that year Juan Cabrillo discovered the Santa Barbara Channel and later, according to legend crossed to San Miguel Island, where he died and was buried. A second Spanish explorer, Sebastian Vizcaino, entered the channel on the Feast Day of Saint Barbara in 1602 and named the area accordingly. Fr. Junipero Serra founded the Santa Barbara mission in 1786. Santa Barbara Royal Presidio, established April 21, 1782, was the last of four royal presidios in Alta California - San Diego, Monterey, San Francisco and Santa Barbara. Santa Barbara had all three Spanish forms - Presidio representing the military; Pueblo, civil and Mission, religious.

In 1873 Ventura County was established from the southern portion of the original Santa Barbara area.
