July General Meeting

Featuring Guest Speaker Neal Graffy

Saturday, July 20, 2024

History Under Your Nose!

Neal Graffy is almost a Santa Barbara native, the result of a premature birth nine years too soon in Wichita, Kansas.

His love for Santa Barbara History began at age 13 when he started gardening and doing odd jobs for Mrs. Leontine Phelan, a descendant of the founder of the Santa Barbara Presidio, who lived in an adobe house built from the Presidio ruins.

Neal has served as a Board Member of the Historical Museum, member (and chairman) of the Santa Barbara County Landmarks Commission, board member of the Mission Canyon Association, and president of the Santa Barbara Corral of Westerners. He is, also, a founding member of de la Guerra y Pacheco Chapter 1.5 of the Ancient and Honorable Order of E Clampus Vitus and an exNoble Grand Humbug of that esteemed organization.

Ancestors West

Our suggested theme for our fall issue is "Settlements and Immigrant Trails." Do you have a relative who helped establish a settlement or town? Do you know how your ancestors traveled? Were they part of a migration?

The fall issue deadline for stories is August 1, 2024

As a reminder, AW writing and submission guidelines, including the preferred format for your stories and photos, are on the inside back cover of AW. Please send your stories to Editor Charmien Carrier: charmien2940@gmail.com

President's Message

by Ted Tazer-Myers

“Cousins are connected heart to heart, distance and time can’t break them apart.” That is the message a cousin of mine presented me with at the conclusion of our visit in St. George, Utah. The message was hidden under polished beads and tawny-colored feathers layered on a burlap background. She also allowed me to scan family BMD records, antique photos, and more. I thought I had died and gone to family history heaven!

Most people would not describe being on a Board of Directors as heaven, but at the Santa Barbara County Genealogical Society, we do try to have fun and do meaningful work, even within the constraints of Robert’s Rules of Order. As such, we have played our annual game of musical chairs and a new board was elected for 2024-25 at the annual meeting last month. I want to take this opportunity to thank Bob Goeller for his many years of services on the Board in various capacities, including as Treasurer most recently. And, second, I want to welcome Rhonda McFarlane as our new Treasurer, Mary Hancock as Secretary, Mary Jacob as Development Director, and Patti Ottoboni as our newest Board “Member-at-Large.” I look forward to your fresh perspectives and new ideas! I also want to thank our returning Board members: Kate Lima, Karen Ramsdell, Marilyn Compton, Chris Klukkert, Heather McDaniel McDevitt, Bob Muller, William Noack, Marie Sue Parsons, Liz Smith, John Woodward, Molly Gleason, Laurie Hannah, Fred Marsh, Elizabeth Swanay O’Neal and Diane Sylvester. Each of you has contributed mightily to the advancement of our mission through your leadership in front or behind the scenes—and for that, I am (we are) deeply grateful!

Summer time is for families and heritage trips. Some of you (like Chris Gallery and Molly Gleason) have already started their adventures! But for the rest of you, I hope to hear about your plans and experiences at our monthly meeting on the 20th — when we all look forward to Neal Graffy’s talk History Under Your Nose! Ted Tazer-Myers

Books at the Sahyun

Chris Klukkert, Book Chair

When I was in England in September of 2019, I made sure to have a whole day at the Society of Genealogists – the large genealogy library there in London.

They advertise having over 11 million on-line records available, and they had a full three floors of books in their library, interspersed with some computer spaces, and (at that time) a space devoted to computer access to UK newspaper archives. It is a genealogist researchers dream to find a large resource like this in one's country of research.

I had a productive full day there and on my way out, I went to the Society bookstore and loaded up on some books that I knew would further my research when I got home. (oh, how the suitcase and carry-on bags get HEAVY on these out-of-town trips!). Look at some of the gems I came home with and will in the near future be a part of our Sahyun collection:

I was reminded of these books loitering on my home bookshelves when I saw a book Library Director, Laurie Hannah had pulled and displayed on our “Staff Choices” shelf. It is 1886 Professional Criminals of America.

The book is a “rousing gallery” of America’s late-nineteenth century’s foremost murderers, bank robbers, conmen, forgers, rogues, embezzlers, and pickpockets. It has loads of wonderful photographs.

I guess you can see a pattern in my research these days. However I assure you it is more out of curiosity rather than relativity. However, as my latest Ancestor’s West submission about my Dad’s Aunt shows, we can ALL be surprised what we find when we reach deep into our trees. In that vein, we have some very helpful books within our bookshelves at the Sahyun you can use for your own reasearch, such as: Wanted! U.S. Criminal Records: Sources & Research Methodology, and to again include England, Criminal Ancestors: A Guide to Historical Criminal Records in England and Wales.

There were evidently so many bad guys in the southwest — they published the book, A Directory of New Mexico Desperados! We all know about the Salem Witch Trials but the former director of the New England Genealogical Society wrote Witches, Rakes, and Rogues: True Stories of Scam, Scandal, Murder, and Mayhem in Boston, 1630 – 1775. It is described by the publisher as “the stuff of National Enquirer headlines-colonial style-meticulously researched and delightfully told.” Come on! You know it would be fabulous to find an ancestor in that book!

You saw in my book collection the book My (British) Ancestor was a Lunatic, and I guess I could have saved myself some British pounds, because the Sahyun collection has on it’s shelves, Basic Facts about Lunatics in England and Wales for Family Historians. (“So many lunatics, so little time.” Tee-hee)

Oh sure, we have the more standard informational books on crime and punishment and the how-to’s of researching legal and criminal relatives such as: Law and Society: An Introduction to Sources for Criminal and Legal History from 1800. I am sure one of our wonderful volunteer librarians can help you find prison records and maybe even photos on one of our in-library subscription sites too, but doesn’t it sound more fun to pull one of the books off the shelf and walk through the contents. Like one of Joseph Boyce’s series, White New Jersey Runaways, 1767-smooth tongued and deceitful. that is described as a “compilation are runaway servants, but quite a number of runaway apprentices, both men and women, military deserters, with horse thieves, burglars, jail breakers, an occasional murderer, enemy spy, a pirate and other lowlife are represented.”

Lastly, there is a book I am going to pull off the shelf next week to have a look through myself. It is The Georgia Black Book: Morbid, Macabre & Sometimes Disgusting Records of Genealogical Value. “Disgusting records”?? I have to take a closer look at that book!

What books on your family awaits your search? Come into the Sahyun and see for yourself. We look forward to your library visit and we encourage and welcome suggestions for other genealogy books for our collection..

Mapmaker Mapmaker— Make me a Map

Custom create your own maps to help you visualize how close (or not) your ancestral villages are.

This one was helpful for me in analyzing my DNA results. Each name is an ancestor with ancestry from the village listed before their name. Having all the places on the same map made visualization easier. Genealogy Tip of the Day book is here. Learn more about it. If you’d like to get Michael’s genealogy tip daily in your email for free, go to: genealogytipofthemonth.com

Outreach

by Holly Snyder, Chair

Happy summer! We had another fun time at the Stow House Old-Fashioned 4th of July! Check out our page of photos. Outreach is gearing up for a busy few months ahead. Not only are we planning a display for the Goleta Library in September, Family History Month Open House the first Sunday of October, and Picnic in the Cemetery in October; we are venturing into a new partnership with Santa Barbara Public Library for a small exhibit in one of their side Faulkner galleries at the end of September honoring Santa Barbara Hispanic families who lived in Santa Barbara between 1850-1950.

Goleta Library Display Case, September 2024

Check out our display at the Goleta Library during the month of September! We will have a cemetery theme highlighting our Picnic in the Cemetery event at the Santa Barbara Cemetery and the Santa Barbara County Hospital Cemetery (aka Pauper's Cemetery). We will also provide information on Family History Month and the Open House, plus general information about the Society.

Montecito Bank & Trust Table Display, September 2024

Santa Barbara Public Library Display, September 29, 2024

We have been invited to partner with the Santa Barbara Public Library to show a preview or introduction to our larger exhibit coming in September 2025. We will highlight a few Santa Barbara Hispanic families who lived in Santa Barbara between 1850-1950, as well as show some family trees and images of their life and culture during the time frame. The exhibit will be in one of the Faulkner side galleries. Stay tuned for more details.

Volunteer Spotlight On Mary Hancock

Mary Hancock's Bio

I was brought up in rural south-eastern Massachusetts and attended Smith College, graduating with a major in Anthropology. I later pursued graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania and conducted several extended research trips to south India for my doctoral research on how Hindu religious practices shaped women's social and political concerns. Later, I studied how popular ideas about history and heritage – as presented in museums and commemorative sites – were transformed during India's 19th and 20th century anti-colonial movements. I had met my future husband, Toby Lazarowitz, also an anthropologist, early in my graduate career and, after we married (1985), he joined me during some of my research trips, becoming a super-fan of cricket and an expert decoder of India's parliamentary politics!

Following graduate study, I taught at the University of Texas (Austin), and conducted further research at the University of Chicago and the School for Advanced Study (Santa Fe), before joining the faculty at UC Santa Barbara in 1994. After a rewarding career – highlighted by the terrific students I worked with and capped by a stint as Interim Dean of Humanities and Fine Arts – I retired in 2022. Retirement gave me the chance to finally pursue personal interests in my own family history, with its roots in the Azores (Portugal), Ireland, and Canada. And, as luck would have it, I joined the Society just as the Outreach Committee was gearing up for the exhibit on Santa Barbara's Asian American and Pacific Islander family histories. I was thrilled to join the dedicated group of volunteers, led by Holly Snyder and Melinda Yamane Crawford, who were researching these important stories. Since then, I've worked with the Outreach Committee on its projects and events, with much of my attention trained now on next year's exhibit on Santa Barbara's Hispanic family histories. I'll also be stepping in to take over the final year of the inimitable Mary Jacob's term as Board secretary and look forward to helping advance the Board's goals in that role.

Volunteering with SBCSG has been fun and enriching in so many ways. As much as the Society supports members' pursuits of their own family histories, I believe that it contributes to a greater good – by making its resources and facilities available to those in Santa Barbara and beyond. Although there are many things that divide our community and our nation, many people can find common ground in their shared interests in genealogy– in understanding their familial, cultural and ethnic roots. I encourage other new members to reach out, as I did, to the groups and committees whose work piques your curiosity and with whom you can share your own skills and knowledge. You'll soon discover that one of the best things about the Society is the generosity, expertise, commitment, and camaraderie of its volunteers!

We would like to share these recollections during the centennial commemoration in 2025. ### NEW MEMBER BENEFITS!

Starting July 1, members gained access to MyHeritage and NewspaperArchive, two services that complemented our other suite of subscription databases and provide users with complete access from home. You will be able to log into these databases from behind our member wall, so you will need to be a member to use them.

The Society will trial these remote services for a year and see how often they are used. Based on user feedback and use statistics, we will evaluate at the end of the fiscal year whether we will continue. As always, we welcome your feedback about library services and what you want from your genealogy society.

Remember, this is an exclusive member benefit!

Review the latest issue of Ancestors West for tips and explanations of how to use each genealogical database in our library. Many of your questions are answered there, so please give it a read!
