President's Message

Marie Sue Parsons

Dear Members and Friends,

I am pleased to present this year's Year-In-Review, highlighting the many accomplishments of the Santa Barbara County Genealogical Society during 2024–2025.

As a fully volunteer-run organization with no paid staff, our success depends entirely on the dedication and generosity of our members. This year, our volunteers contributed more than 13,000 hours of service — a truly remarkable achievement. To all who gave their time and talent, thank you. If you have not yet volunteered, I warmly invite you to get involved in the year ahead. Your participation is vital to sustaining and growing our Society.

Membership dues and your generous contributions to the Annual Appeal and other donations are a key component of our revenue stream. We also meet our expenses through income from the rental of the Victorian house and storage units on our property, as well as grants and book sales. Every membership, gift, and volunteer hour makes a meaningful impact — thank you for being part of it.

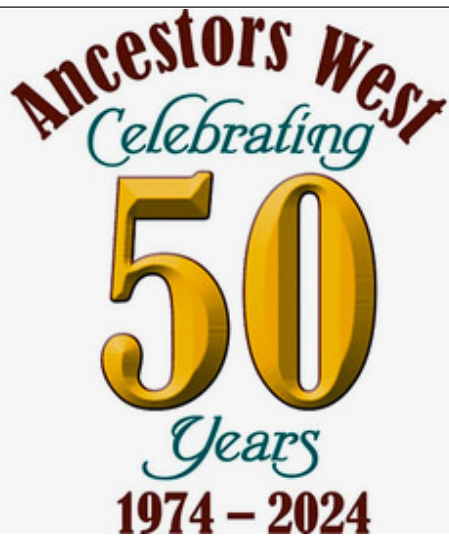

Together, we are building a premier genealogical organization — one that fosters the discovery of ancestral, cultural, and ethnic roots, and preserves the rich histories of families.

With sincere appreciation for your ongoing support,
Marie Sue Parsons
President

Memorial Patio and Garden

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

- Conceptual design was completed and approved for the Memorial Patio and Garden project. The board approved the use of up to $50,000 in donated funds to complete preparation of the final design documents, secure a construction permit from the city and remove the glass house and room B2 of the redwood building. Additional funding will be required for construction.
- Eleven trees were removed from the redwood grove to reduce overcrowding of the growing trees and improve their health in the future. The irrigation system for these trees was also rebuilt.
- The Jackson Family Conference Room was refurbished including repainting and the installation of a new large screen video monitor and A/V system to improve meetings with remote attendees. A leak in the library roof that damaged the ceiling in the conference room was repaired.
- Excessive water usage in the library building required investigation to identify the cause of the problem. The reverse osmosis system under the sink in the kitchen had failed and required major maintenance.
- The Castillo Street gate entrance was painted and the support columns capped. Additionally, the street numbers upgraded and vandalism to the SBCGS sign was repaired.
- The main entrance door to the library was painted.
- A study was performed to consider remodeling the kitchen in the Victorian house. However, after consideration, it was decided to defer this project due to the major impact this work would have on the resident family.
